“THE CHESTERS OF CHICHELEY.”

SOME ADDITIONS AND CORRECTIONS.

By the Rev. W. G. D. FLETCHER, M.A., F.S.A.

The “Genealogical Memoirs of the Extinct Family of Chester of Chicheley,” by the late Mr. R. E. Chester Waters,¹ is usually considered to be one of the very best of our many family histories. Mr. Waters detested inaccuracy, and delighted to expose the blunders of heralds and antiquaries. But his book, unlike many genealogical works, is most readable and interesting, and it displays throughout the most patient energy and the most minute investigation.

Some little time before his death, I purchased a large package of papers chiefly relating to Leicestershire, and amongst these were some documents relating to the Chester family, which supplement the information given in his book. I sent these to Mr. Waters, and he told me that he should publish them in some form. As, however, he died before he could carry out his intention, I venture to send to The Genealogist some few additions to “The Chesters of Chicheley,” compiled from an abstract I made of the documents before sending the originals to Mr. Waters; and I have also added one or two corrections of erroneous statements that I have discovered in his book. They add somewhat to Mr. Waters’s statements, and they also throw light on the estates owned by the Chester family. I will deal with these additions and corrections in the order in which they occur in “The Chesters of Chicheley.”

Vol. i, p. 356.—Mr. Waters states that Dorothea Wilson (née Chester) gave to Loughborough Church two large silver flagons and two silver salvers, “which are still used in the service of the Holy Communion.” As a matter of fact, all this valuable communion plate, which was kept in a chest in the “evidence chamber,” over the south porch of Loughborough Church, was stolen on 6 May 1857, and never recovered. The silver flagons weighed 5 lbs. 14 ozs. and 5 lbs. 12 ozs. respectively, and were inscribed “D. Willson.” The two salvers weighed 3 lbs., and bore the initials, “D.W.” Mrs. Wilson also gave in 1735 to Tugby Church, a silver salver, weight 18 ozs., diameter 9½ inches, date 1729, inscribed with the Arms of Wilson impaling Chester; and a silver basin, weight 14 ozs., diameter 9½ inches, date 1735, having on the edge, “Tugby Church Plate, 1735, D.W.” (See Trollope’s Church Plate of Leicestershire, Vol. i, pp. 45, 46, 249, 251.)

Vol. i, p. 359.—Penelope Chester, the thirteenth child of Sir Anthony Chester, 3rd Bart., married in 1706 or 1707, as his second wife, the ¹ Mr. Chester Waters passed away on 25 November 1898, at 11, Clarendon Road, W., in his seventy-second year. It was my good fortune to know him in the early eighties, when he was residing at 57, The Grove, Hammersmith.

Rev. John Alleyne, B.D., Rector of Loughborough. The marriage licence, dated 7 Nov. 1706, is preserved at Leicester—to marry at Bosworth, Loughborough or Shenton. (Leicester Licences, 1706, No. 80.) Penelope was buried at Loughborough, 28 February 1731. She left an only child, Penelope, who (Mr. Waters alleges) was “born in 1708, and died unmarried on 16 August 1773, at the age of 65.” This is an error on the part of Mr. Waters. Penelope Alleyne was baptized at Loughborough, 6 October 1708, but, so far from dying unmarried, she married her cousin, the Rev. Richard Alleyne, Rector of Stanford, Notts, and had a family of eight children. Penelope’s marriage is clearly proved by the will of her father John Alleyne, which Mr. Waters overlooked.

WILL OF JOHN ALLEYNE, CLERK, RECTOR OF LOUGHBOROUGH, CO.
LEICESTER. DATED 21 JANUARY 1735, 9 GEO. II.

“I devise my lands not already settled in Gadesby, co. Leicester, and in Litton, co. Derby, and Congune Lane Close in Tideswell, to my daughter Penelope Alleyne, wife of Richard Alleyne, clerk, in fee.

“My lands, etc., in Ilston and Frizeby, co. Leicester, and all other my lands, to Edward Butler, LL.D., President of Magd : Coll : Oxon, John Toller of Lincoln’s Inn, Esq., and the Revd. Richard Arnold, of Thurston, clerk, upon trust to pay the rents to my son Thomas Alleyne, Fellow of Eman : Coll : Cambridge, for his life ; and after his death to my daughter Penelope Alleyne for her life ; and after the decease of the survivor to sell the same.

“My ready money and securities, &c. (except what was given to my daughter Penelope Alleyne by Mrs. Woolaston) to my said trustees, in trust to pay debts and legacies ; and then to pay the yearly proceeds to my son Thomas for life, remainder to my daughter Penelope for life ; and after the decease of the survivor, both as to my personal estate and as to the moneys arising from the sale of my lands at Ilston and Frizeby, in trust for the children of Penelope, as she shall by deed or will appoint, in default of appointment to such children in equal shares, if none to the executors or administrators of Penelope.

“To my daughter Penelope Alleyne, £20 ; to my grand-daughter Dorothea Alleyne, £10 ; to my sister Wilson, £1 1s. for a ring ; and to the poor of Loughborough, £10.

“I appoint the said Edward Butler, John Toller and Richard Arnold, executors ; and I give each of them £10 for mourning.

“(Signed) JOHN ALLEYNE.

“Witnesses : Sam : Martin, Robt. Roberts, John Trotman.”

Admon., with the will annexed, granted by P.C.C., 31 March 1748, to Thomas Alleyne, son and residuary legatee, Edward Butler and John Toller having died, and Richard Arnold having renounced. And a Definitive Sentence being first pronounced for the validity of the will.
(70 Strahan.)

There seems to have been some unpleasantness between the Rev.

Thomas Alleyne (only surviving child¹ of John Alleyne, the testator, by his first wife) and his half-sister Penelope Alleyne by reason of this will. An agreement was arrived at on 12 October 1739, about six months after John Alleyne's death, and was signed by the parties; but in Trinity Term, 1746, a Bill was filed in Chancery, between Richard Alleyne & Penelope his wife, and Dorothea Frances, John, Penelope, Catherine, Ann, and Richard, their children, infants, by Richard Alleyne, their next friend, complainants, and Thomas Alleyne and Richard Arnold, defendants. The cause was finally heard, and decree made, on 31 October 1750. Three years later, on 31 December 1753, Thomas Alleyne and Richard Alleyne and Penelope his wife came to terms, and executed an indenture by which they agreed to a division of the personalty.

Thomas Alleyne, however, carried his animosity to such a pitch that by his will, which is dated 9 June 1757, and two codicils, he disinherited his half-sister entirely. He bequeathed £100 to Emanuel College, Cambridge, and £50 to his cousin, William Roos, and he devised his houses and lands in Derby, Parkfield Loughborough, Quorndon, and Lowdham and elsewhere in Suffolk, to his cousin Mrs. Elizabeth Woodhouse, of Critch, co. Derby, spinster. His will was proved in P.C.C., 11 August 1761, by Elizabeth Woodhouse. (275 Cheslyn.) After his death, Elizabeth Woodhouse applied in the Archdeaconry Court of Leicester for leave to erect a monument in Loughborough Church to his memory. This application Penelope Alleyne opposed, but ultimately the Court, on 12 May 1763, decreed that a faculty should be granted. Elizabeth Woodhouse became the wife of the Rev. Richard Gifford, Vicar of Duffield.

Richard Alleyne, the husband of Penelope, and her first cousin, was the son of Richard Alleyne,² of St. Werburgh's, Derby, and was born in 1706. He was educated at Derby School and at Emanuel College, Cambridge, where he graduated B.A. in 1726, and became M.A. and Fellow in 1730. He was ordained Deacon by the Bishop of Lincoln, 22 Dec. 1728, and the next day was licensed to the curacy of Walton-on-the-Wolds. In 1734 he was ordained priest, and became Curate of Sharnford. He is described as "of Loughborough" in 1738. On 11 November 1740 he became Curate of Stanford-on-Soar, and was instituted Rector on 14 April 1755. An interesting letter of Richard Alleyne is preserved, addressed to his eldest daughter, when she was on a visit to East Haddon, and dated 15 December 1760; it well describes the daily home-life in a quiet country rectory.

¹ Mr. Waters speaks of Thomas Alleyne as the only child of John Alleyne, by Jane Staveley, his first wife. (Vol. i, p. 359.) He had had, however, three other sons who died young, viz., John, baptized and buried 1697; Robert, baptized and buried 1704; and Richard, baptized and buried 1705. (Fletcher's Rectors of Loughborough, p. 49.)

² Richard Alleyne was born at Derby, 6 April 1666, and buried in December 1760. He was younger brother of John Alleyne, the Rector of Loughborough, who was born 26 September 1657, and died 25 March 1739. John and Richard were sons of John Alleyne, of St. Werburgh's, Derby. For particulars about the Alleyne family, see Fletcher's Rectors of Loughborough, pp. 27-32, 49-52, and the authorities there cited.

"You desire the news of ye neighbourhood; & a rational request it is! & you are very likely to be gratified in it. For was I to speak only from personal knowledge, my province would be much confined, & I could only give you a long detail of our short journeys from the bedside to the parlour fire; how we breakfast till past ten, dine till betwixt two & three, drink tea between 5 & 6, play at cards till almost supper time, & at supper riot in all the luxury of oatmeal hasty pudding, & soon after ten to bed again. This is our continual round; & an agreeable one you'll say it is. Why it is enough indeed for people of such indolent inactive dispositions as we are; but for others of sprightliness & activity, for our friends at Haddon, it would by no means do; they must hear, see, & know more of the world than we can expect in our small Hotel & retir'd Villa." ¹

Richard Alleyne died 12 November 1767, in his 62nd year, and was buried at Stanford-on-Soar, where a flat stone in the aisle records this inscription:—"Here lies interred the body of the Rev. Mr. Richard Alleyne, Rector of this Parish, who departed this life the 12th day of Nov. 1767, in the 62 year of his age. Here also lies the body of Penelope Alleyne, Relict of the Revd. Mr. Richard Alleyne. She departed this life the 16th day of August 1773, in the 65th year of her age."

His widow retired to Loughborough after her husband's death, but she survived him less than six years, and was buried at Stanford, 20 August 1773. The following is an abstract of her will:—

WILL OF PENELOPE ALLEYNE, OF LOUGHBOROUGH, WIDOW OF RICHARD ALLEYNE, LATE OF STANFORD, CLERK, DECEASED. Dated 22 June 1771.

"In pursuance of the power given me by an Indenture dated 16 October 1733, made between my late honoured and esteemed father John Alleyne, clerk, deceased, of the 1st part, Richard Alleyne, clerk, my late husband, of the 2nd part, and Edward Butler, LL.D., and Richard Arnold, B.D., of the 3rd part, I appoint and devise all those lands, &c., lying at Litton & Tidswell, co. Derby, to my son John Alleyne, & his heirs; and all those messuages, lands, etc., at Gaddesby, co. Leicester, to my daughters Dorothea Frances Alleyne, Penelope Alleyne and my son Thomas Alleyne, as tenants in common.

"And under the power given me by the will of my late father John Alleyne, dated 21 Jan. 1735, I appoint that the moneys to arise from the sale of the lands at Ilston & Frisby, now vested in the Rev. Brownlow Toller and Edward Ellis, and £440 6s. 8d., the residue of his personal estate also vested in them, shall be paid as follows: £1,000 to my daughter Ann, the wife of John Bosworth; £100 to my daughter Catharine, the wife of John Stacey; £500 to the children of Catharine Stacey, as she shall appoint, if none live to attain 21 then to my daughters

Dorothea Frances Alleyne & Penelope Alleyne & my son Thomas Alleyne in equal shares.

"I give £20 to my son John Alleyne for mourning, and also the moneys to arise from the sale of the lands in Litton & Tideswell.

"The residue of the moneys arising from the sale of the lands at Ilston & Frisby, to the said Dorothea Frances, Penelope, & Thomas Alleyne equally.

"The sum of £440 6s. 8d. to the said Dorothea Frances Alleyne & Penelope Alleyne equally.

"Specific bequests of watches & plate. The residue to my daughters Dorothea Frances Alleyne & Penelope Alleyne, and I appoint them executrixes of my will.

"(Signed) PEN : ALLEYNE.

"Witnesses : Samuel Abell, junr., Mary Clayton, John Blunt."

Richard and Penelope Alleyne had issue, eight children, namely :—

1. Dorothea Frances, of Loughborough, died unmarried and was buried at Stanford-on-Soar, 28 May 1807. Her will is dated 21 November 1787 : she devises her lands at Gaddesby to her sister Penelope Hunt, for life, remainder to her brother John Alleyne, in fee ; bequeaths her money and plate, etc., to her sisters and the children of her brother John Alleyne, and appoints her brother John Alleyne and her brother-in-law John Bosworth, executors of her will.

2. John Alleyne, of Nottingham, silk mercer. He married, at St. Mary's, Nottingham, by licence, 18 March 1765, Mary, daughter of Thomas Morris, of Nottingham, and was buried at Nottingham in 1793. They had issue, a son who died young, and four daughters :—

(1) Mary, born 1766, married at St. Peter's, Nottingham, 26 January 1792, John Cradock, of Loughborough, attorney, and had issue, six sons and three daughters. She died 11 August 1807, aged 41, and was buried at Loughborough. M.I. He was born 26 February 1766, and died 18 March 1833. The family is now represented by John Davys Cradock, of Quorn Court. (See Pedigree of Cradock in The Genealogist, O.S., Vol. vi, pp. 19-23, Burke's Landed Gentry, and Leicestershire Pedigrees and Royal Descents.)

(2) Penelope, born 1768, died unmarried, 27 March 1805, aged 37, and was buried at Quorndon, where is this inscription : "Sacred to the memory of Penelope Alleyne, died March 27, 1805, aged 37." (Nichols' Leicestershire, Vol. iv, p. 403.)

(3) Anne Frances, married at Althorpe, near Packington, in 1794, William Middleton, of Loughborough, banker, and had issue. She died March 1838. He died 8 Oct. 1843. (See Pedigree of Middleton in Burke's Landed Gentry, 5th edition.)

- (4) Catherine, married at St. Mary's, Nottingham, in 1803, to Thomas Holdsworth, of Alvaston, co. Derby, and had issue—Catherine and Ellen.
3. Penelope, baptized at Loughborough 15 October 1734; married there 23 September 1776, Thomas Hunt, of Loughborough, surgeon, and died s.p., 1797.
 4. Catherine, baptized at Loughborough, 26 April 1738; married John Stacey; died 22 May 1794, and was buried at Coleorton. M.I.
 5. Ann, baptized at Stanford-on-Soar, 30 September 1741; married at Loughborough 11 February 1771, John Bosworth, of Beeby Grange. He died 10 December 1812, aged 79, and she died 2 March 1831, and was buried 9 March at Beeby. On the floor of Beeby Church is a stone with this inscription: "In memory of John Bosworth, who departed this life Dec. 10, 1812, aged 79 years. Also Anne, the wife of John Bosworth, who died March 2^d 1831, aged 90 years. She was the daughter of the Revd. Richard Alleyne, Rector of Stanford-on-Soar, and Penelope his wife." John and Ann Bosworth had issue, two sons, Thomas and John. The younger son, John Bosworth, born 11 May 1774, was an Alderman and Freeman of Leicester; he married at Stanford, 31 Oct. 1809, Sarah, daughter of William Rowland, and had issue by her seven children—John Alleyne Bosworth, of Humberstone; Rowland Bosworth; Benjamin Bosworth; Mary; Catherine Anne, the wife of Thomas Westland Rowland, of Normanton-on-Soar; Robert Rowland Bosworth; and Frances Sarah. John Bosworth of Leicester died 26 January 1857, and was buried at Leicester.
 6. Elizabeth Priscilla, baptized at Stanford-on-Soar, 25 August 1742, and was buried there 17 April 1743.
 7. Richard Alleyne, born 3 August 1743, and baptized 10 August at Stanford; died 25 May 1754, and was buried 28 May at Stanford. On 28 May 1754, Elizabeth Denny, of Stanford, made an affidavit before Theophilus Hastings, Curate of Leake, "that the body of Richard Alleyne, Son of Richard and Penelope Alleyne, deceas'd the twenty fifth of May in the year of our Lord 1754, was not wrapp'd or wound up for Burial, in any thing but what was of Sheep's Wool only."
 8. Thomas Alleyne, of Lambeth, silk-mercator; born 24 October and baptized 28 November 1749, at Stanford-on-Soar.

There are several releases extant, dated in June 1776, for the legacies and shares of these children made under the wills of their mother, Penelope, and grandfather, John Alleyne. The Arms of Alleyne, as borne by this family are: Argent, a cross moline Sable. Some of Penelope's descendants possess Archbishop Cranmer's watch and other relics of their distinguished collateral ancestor. The watch was exhibited at a meeting of the Leicestershire Archæological Society on 31 March 1884, and it was then the property of Mr. Rowland Bosworth, his collateral descendant in the ninth generation. Sir Anthony Chester, third Bart., married in 1657 Mary, daughter of Samuel Cranmer, Alderman of London, who was great-grandson of John Cranmer of Aslacton, the Archbishop's elder brother. (See the Leicestershire Archæological Society's "Transactions," vol. vi, p. 95; and pedigree in the "Chesters of Chicheley," vol. ii, pp. 444-6.)

Vol. ii, p. 525.—John Chester (afterwards fourth Baronet) married Anne Wollaston on 2 November 1686. A post-nuptial settlement was executed on 18 October 1687. It is made between Sir Anthony Chester, [third] Bart., and John Chester, his son and heir-apparent, of the first part, the Hon. Lewis Watson and Sir William Villers of the second part, William Wollaston, Esq., and Anne Chester, his daughter and wife of the said John Chester, of the third part, Sir Villers Charnock, Francis Duncomb, Esq., John Cholmondeley, Esq., and John Cave, Clerk, of the fourth part, Sir Henry Campbell, Bart., and William Farrer, Esq., of the fifth part, Charles Toll, Esq., and Thomas Roper, Esq., of the sixth part, and John Manning and Francis Brace, gent, of the seventh part. In consideration of a marriage portion of £10,000 paid by William Wollaston, Sir Anthony Chester and John Chester released to the said Watson and Villers the manors of Chicheley and Thick-Thornes, co. Bucks, and of Tilsworth, co. Bedford, Liddington Park, and lands in Liddington, Marston, and Millbrook, co. Bedford, and in Hanbridge, Marston, Crawley, Emerton, or Sherrington, in cos. Bucks and Bedford, and the rectories of Chicheley and Tilsworth, upon certain trusts. As to certain lands in Tilsworth, to the said Toll and Roper for eighty years, with ultimate remainder to John Chester in tail male, and failing such issue to Sir Anthony Chester in fee. As to the manor and rectory of Tilsworth, etc., to John Chester and Anne his wife in tail male. And as to lands in Chicheley and Emerton, to Sir Anthony Chester during the lives of himself and Dame Mary Chester his grandmother, and Dame Elizabeth Chester his mother; remainder to John Chester for life, remainder to his sons successively in tail male, remainder to Sir Anthony Chester in fee. The term of eighty years is to enable Anne Chester to receive the rents of certain lands in Tilsworth during her life.

Vol. ii, p. 533.—Mr. Waters says that the will of Sir John Chester, fourth Baronet, though afterwards the subject of a Chancery Suit, is not to be found in the Registry of the Prerogative Court. I am able to give an abstract of this will, but I do not know where it was proved:—

WILL OF SIR JOHN CHESTER, BART. DATED 25 JANUARY 1725-6.

"To my son William Chester and his heirs, lands in Chalgrave, co. Bedford, and a piece of land called the Berry peice in which the Water house stands, and the Coney hills without the Parke at Littleington in co. Bedford.

"To my son John Chester and his heirs, farm at Clifton, co. Bedford, and farm at Sherrington, co. Bucks, and the farm at Hockley, subject to the payment of £90 per annum to my daughter Elizabeth Chester, and of £15 per annum to my daughter Anne Chester, for life.

"To the said Anne Chester, farm at Kempston, co. Bedford; remainder to my son Francis Chester and his heirs.

"To my brother Cesar Chester, £20 per annum for his life, payable out of such lands as I shall devise to my executors; and to my nephew Anthony Chester, £25 per annum for his life, payable out of the said lands.

"To my wife Dame Frances Chester, and my son-in-law John Toller, all my messuages and lands in Littleington, Marston, Millbrooke, and elsewhere, not by me formerly settled or otherwise disposed of, for the term of 100 years, in trust to apply the rents and profits thereof to aid my personal estate in the payment of debts and legacies; and when all these are paid, I give the said lands to my son John Chester in fee.

"I appoint my wife, my son John Chester, and my son-in-law John Toller, executors of my will."

Vol. ii, p. 581.—There was a lawsuit, in the Chancery or Exchequer, sometime between 1708 and 1726, in which John Wilkins, of Ravenstone was complainant, and William Chester, of Brooksby, Esquire, defendant, but I have no particulars of this suit.

Vol. ii, p. 583.—Mrs. Elizabeth Wollaston, the widow of William Wollaston, of Shenton, was buried there 28 March 1717. The following is an abstract of her will:—

WILL OF ELIZABETH WOLLASTON, OF SHENTON, CO. LEICESTER, WIDDOW AND RELICT OF WILLIAM WOLLASTON, ESQUIRE, DECEASED. DATED 8 JANUARY 1716.

"My body to be interred in the parish church of Shenton, in a decent manner, without any funerall pomp or expence.

"I devise all those my closes called Bynions Closes in the parishes of Chichley and Emarton, co. Bucks, and all other my lands which I bought of William Hartley, late of Newport, deceased, unto my grandson William Chester, Esquire, and his heirs.

"To my daughter Rebecca Wilkins, the wife of John Wilkins, Esquire, £50 for mourning.

"The residue to my grandson William Chester, whom I make sole executor. I revoke all former wills.

"(Signed) ELIZA WOLLASTON."

Will proved in the Archdeaconry Court of Leicester, 27 March 1717, by William Chester, of Shenton, Esq., the executor. Nul: Inv:

Vol. ii, p. 605.—William Chester, afterwards fifth Baronet, married Penelope Hewitt on 5 March 1716-17. Shortly before the marriage, by Indenture dated 29 January 1716, and made between Sir John Chester, Bart., and William Chester, Esquire, his son and heir-apparent of the one part, and Francis Brace, gent., of the other part, the estates tail and remainders in the premises settled on 18 October 1687 were barred. And in Hilary Term, 3 George I., a Recovery was suffered of the manor of Tilsworth, Lilleington Parke, the Rectory of Tilsworth, and lands in Chicheley and Emerton.

The Settlement on the marriage is dated 4 and 5 March 1716, the Release made between Sir John Chester, Bart., and William Chester, Esquire, his son and heir-apparent of the first part, Penelope Hewitt, daughter of George Hewitt, Esquire, deceased, of the second part, Sir James Robinson, Bart., and Francis Duncomb, Esquire, of the third part, Sir Pincet Charnock, Bart., and William Jesson, Esquire, of the fourth part, and William Hewitt, Esquire, and Francis Duncomb, junior, Esquire, of the fifth part. In consideration of a marriage to be solemnized between William Chester and Penelope Hewitt, and of £3,000 marriage portion paid by her, Sir John Chester and William Chester released to the said Robinson and Duncombe senior, the Manor and Rectory of Tilsworth, Comber or Lilleington Park, and lands in Littleington, Marston and Millbrooke, co. Bedford, and in Chicheley and Emerton, co. Bucks, To the uses of the Indenture of 18 October 1687, until the said marriage shall be solemnized; and afterwards to William Chester for his life; remainder to the use of the sons of the said William and Penelope successively in tail male; remainder to Sir John Chester and his heirs. And as to the residue of the said manor of Tilsworth, etc., to Trustees, to raise portions for the younger children of the marriage, if one, £2,000, if two or more, £4,000.

Mr. Waters is not quite accurate in his statement about this settlement, on page 606.

Vol. ii, p. 607.—The Chancery Suit contesting the provisions of Sir John Chester's will, was between Penelope Chester, Elizabeth Chester, Anne Chester, Catharine Diana Chester, Dorothy Chester, and Mary Chester, the six daughters and co-heirs of Sir William Chester, late of Brooksby, co. Leicester, Bart., deceased, by Dame Penelope Chester, their mother and next friend, plaintiffs, and Sir John Chester, Bart., Dame Frances Chester, John Toller, Esq., Sir Pincet Charnock, Bart., William Hewitt, Esq., and Francis Duncombe, Esq., defendants.

There is of course no difficulty in adding to the information given in almost any genealogical work; but it seemed to me that the additions and corrections here given are such as Mr. Chester Waters would have himself inserted in any revised edition of his work, and are worthy of being placed on permanent record in the pages of The Genealogist. What became of the documents here abstracted, after his death, I do not know.

THE CAREWS, BARONETS OF ANTONY, CO. CORNWALL.
(ADDITIONAL NOTES.)

The former treatise on the Baronetcy of Carew of Antony, Cornwall, in The Genealogist (N.S., vol. xxiv, p. 22) was, to myself at any rate, a most unsatisfactory effort, as it left the devolution or extinction of the Baronetcy upon the death in 1799 of the Rev. Sir Alexander Carew, eighth Bart., undetermined. I now, therefore, offer the following additional notes with a view, as far as possible, to shew that the Baronetcy came to an end on the death of the Vicar of St. Wenn.

In the former article I had, I venture to say, successfully dealt with the issue male of Thomas, fifth son of Sir Alexander Carew, second Bart., and with all senior to him in that line. Alexander, the (probably younger) brother of this Thomas, was of Smyrna and died a bachelor. Administration of his estate was granted P.C.C. 19 Feb. 1673-4 to his brother Richard, Dame Jane Carew, his mother, renouncing.

Richard Carew, the only other son of Sir Alexander Carew, was baptised at St. Minver, Cornwall, 21 Apr. 1641. He was M.P. for Saltash 1689 until his death, and was probably M.P. for Callington 1679-81 (though this may be his uncle, Richard Carew, of Barley, hereinafter referred to). He married, probably at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, co. Middlesex (lic. Fac. Office, 31 July 1674), Penelope, second daughter and coheir of Rice Tanat, of Abertanat, co. Salop, who was then aged 24. By the will of the said Richard Carew then of Abertanat aforesaid, dated 22 Aug. 1691, probate P.C.C. 20 Jan. 1691-2 (Fane 5), it appears that his wife predeceased him and that he died s.p., as he left the residue of both lands and goods to his brother Sir John Carew, Bart.

With regard to the issue male of the first Bart., Sir Alexander Carew was the youngest, but only surviving, son of the first marriage. By his second marriage, however, with Grace Rolle (his eldest son's future sister-in-law) Sir Richard had six sons, viz. :—

- I. John Carew, born 3, baptised at Antony 7 July 1622, matriculated at Gloucester Hall, Oxon., 1637, aged 15; admitted to the Inner Temple; M.P. for Tregony 1646-53. He was one of the Regicides and as such was executed at Charing Cross 15 Oct. 1660. He was, of course, attainted, and his issue, if any, would be thus passed over on a question of descent of a title. I do not, however, think he was ever married. Colonel Vivian, in his "Visitations of Cornwall," very kindly supplies him with a wife, to wit, Anne, daughter of Richard Hoblyn, whom he is there said to have married 26 July 1664, some three or four years after he was duly hung, drawn and quartered. On referring to the Hoblyn pedigree I find that a Richard Hoblyn, of Antron, married Anne, daughter of John Carew, of Penwarne, on that very date (26 July 1664) at St. Columb Major, which Anne Carew was the Regicide's first cousin.

- II. Wymond Carew, born 28 Aug., and baptised at Antony 7 Sept. 1623, and was buried there 9 Aug. 1624.
- III. Sir Thomas Carew, the only son of Sir Richard's second marriage to leave issue, of whom hereafter.
- IV. Richard Carew, of Barley, Devon, baptised at Antony 18 June 1626; possibly M.P. for Callington 1679-81. His will, dated 2 Oct. 1685, was proved 15 Nov. 1686 (Princ. Reg., Exeter), by Sir John Carew, Bart., and Daniel Vinicombe, two of the executors in trust for testator's nephew Henry, son of his brother Sir Thomas. The testator apparently left no issue, at least none is mentioned in the will.
- V. Robert Carew, of St. Margaret, Lothbury, London, baptised at Antony 16 Sept. 1627, died a bachelor. His nuncupative will dated 2, was proved 30 Jan. 1654-5, P.C.C. (Aylett 31), by Joseph Carew, his brother and residuary legatee.
- VI. Joseph Carew, of Aleppo, baptised at Antony 11 Jan. 1628-9. Will dated 20 Apr. 1674, probate P.C.C. 20 Feb. 1674-5, (Dycer 11), by his brother Richard Carew; no wife or child is mentioned.

Sir Thomas Carew, of Barley, the third son of the first Baronet's second marriage, was baptised at Antony 19 July 1624. He was a Barrister-at-Law of the Inner Temple and was M.P. for Callington 1658-9, for Michael 1660, and for Exeter 1680-1. He was knighted at Dartmouth 21 July 1671, and died 25, and was buried with his wife at St. Thomas', Exeter, 29 July 1681. His will, dated 11 July 1681, was proved 15 Dec. 1682, and again 28 Aug. 1688 in Exeter Consistory Court. He married Elizabeth, possibly daughter of John Cooper, of Exeter, but more probably widow of . . . Cupper. Her administration as Dame Elizabeth Carew alias Cupper, was granted out of P.C.C. 1 July 1681. Sir Thomas had; with three daughters, five sons, viz. :—

- I. John Carew, buried as eldest son and heir apparent at St. Thomas', Exeter, 16 Mar. 1662.
- II. Thomas Carew, of Barley, Devon, M.P. for Saltash 1700-5, bur. at St. Thomas', Exeter. Will dated 29 Mar., probate 24 May 1705, P.C.C., and a copy thereof was left in the Consistory Court at Exeter. He thereby left all his lands to his brother and executor Richard Carew.
- III. Richard Carew, of Barley aforesaid, matriculated at Exeter College, Oxon., 1683, aged 19. He was buried at St. Thomas'. In his will and codicil both dated 15 Nov. 1713 and proved 4 Nov. 1714 in the Exeter Consistory Court by Sentence, he refers to his wife then alive but unnamed, and makes his sister Katherine, wife of William Pinnick, his executrix and residuary devisee. No children are mentioned.

IV. Henry Carew, of St. Thomas the Apostle, Devon, one of the four Tellers of the Exchequer, was under age 1686, but 21 by 8 Oct. 1690, when he proved the will of his uncle Richard Carew. His will, dated 13 Mar. 1697-8, was proved 20 Jan. 1698-9, P.C.C. (Pett 89). He mentions neither wife nor child, and makes his brother Thomas his executor.

V. Joseph Carew, of Exeter, gent., died a bachelor. Administration granted out of P.C.C. 8 Oct. 1692 to Richard, Henry and Elizabeth Carew, brothers and sister.

Failing the appearance of any son of the first Baronet hitherto undiscovered, it seems safe enough to say that the Baronetcy of Carew of Antony, created 9 Aug. 1641, came to an end upon the death of the eighth Baronet, Rev. Sir Alexander Carew, Vicar of St. Wenn in 1799.

A further tabular pedigree may make the results of these notes more clear :—

REGINALD M. GLENCROSS.

STUBBS OF STAMFORD AND NASSINGTON.

ARMS: Sable, on a bend between three pheons (? Or), as many buckles (? Gules). CREST: A demi-eagle, wings expanded.

Two pedigrees of this family have been published—one by Mr. W. C. Metcalfe in The Genealogist, O.S., vol. iii, p. 311, from the Visitation of Cambridgeshire, 1684; the other by Canon Maddison in Lincolnshire Pedigrees, vol. iii (Harleian Society, vol. lii), p. 933, based on MS. D. 23 at Heralds' College (the last Visitation of Lincolnshire, 1666). The following notes largely extend, and in regard to the marriages materially amend, the published pedigrees, and trace the connection of one branch of the family with Nassington, Northants.

- I. Joseph Stubbs, described in both the published pedigrees as "of Stamford, descended out of Norfolk," married at Wymondham, Leicestershire, in December 1604 (day of month not legible in parish register) Mary, daughter of William Gulston, rector of Wymondham, and sister of John Gulston, sometime prothonotary of the Common Pleas (whom the published pedigrees erroneously make her father), of Dr. Theodore Gulston (who mentions his "sister Stubbes" in his will, dated 26 April, proved P.C.C., 1 June 1632, 64 Audley), and of Nathaniel Gulston, D.D., the father of Bishop Gulston of Bristol and of Mrs. Addison (Cf. Notes and Queries, 10 S. X. 201). Mrs. Stubbs was living 11 Oct. 1666. Joseph and Mary Stubbs had issue—

- (1) Justinian Stubbs, who occurs as of Ryhall, Rutland, clerk, 1662-75, probably first as Curate-in-charge, afterwards as Vicar. He married and had issue—

John, educated at Stamford School for four years, and at home under his father for three years, before admission to Caius College, Cambridge, 20 June 1664, at the age of 18. John Stubbs graduated M.B. 1670, and died s.p. before 1684.

- (2) John Stubbs, of whom below.

- (3) Sheffield Stubbs, born circa 1614. Of St. Paul's, Covent Garden. An overseer of the will, dated 17 Nov., proved P.C.C., 29 Jan. 1657-8 (1 Wootton), of Henry Waite, citizen and leather seller of London. His will, dated 11 Oct., proved P.C.C., 30 Oct. 1666 (150 Mico), mentions his wife Sarah (executrix), his daughter Elizabeth Ker, his son Sheffield Stubbs, and his daughter Strainge (who was born 18 March, baptized at St. Paul's, Covent Garden, 24 March 1656-7), and makes his brother, John Stubbs, and his cousin, Nicholas Waite, overseers. The younger Sheffield Stubbs, who was under age 11 Oct. 1666, was of Ely in 1684; married and had issue.

- (4) Richard Stubbs, of Bristol, merchant. His will, dated 18 May, proved P.C.C., 1 July 1675 (78 Dycer), mentions his wife Mary, his sons Thomas (of London), Richard, Charles, and John, and his daughters Basrell, Ann Tuffey, and Elizabeth.

II. John Stubbs, born circa 1611, of Barnard's Inn, attorney-at-law. Co-surety with William Sharpe of Nassington for Daniel Thorowgood of Stamford, 17 Jan. 1637-8. Cited as co-trustee with Robert Maltward of several leases of lands, etc., at Witham, Essex, in the will of John Gulston, dated 13 June 1643, proved P.C.C. (at Oxford) 13 April 1644. John Stubbs married, firstly, Elizabeth Barnewell, of Nassington, spinster, daughter and eventually heiress of George Barnewell (erroneously called Francis Barnwell in the Lincolnshire pedigree) of Rochester by his marriage with Elizabeth, daughter of Edmund Ferby of Paul's Cray Hill. Marriage licence, in which John Stubbs is described as of Stamford St. Martin, gentleman, for marriage at Caistor, dated 19 Jan. 1635-6 (Peterborough Diocesan Registry). In his will dated 20 Aug., proved P.C.C., 2 Oct. 1625 (104 Clark), George Barnewell left 40s. to the poor of Rochester and the same sum to the poor of Nashington (sic), Northants, and asked his "father Carter" (Cf. pedigree of Carter of Nassington in Lincolnshire Pedigrees, vol. i, p. 231) and his mother to be good to his daughter Elizabeth. John and Elizabeth Stubbs had issue—

- (1) Robert Stubbs, of whom below.
- (1) Bazill, died before her father.
- (2) Elizabeth, married at Stibbington, Hunts, 6 Jan. 1662-3, John Lawrence, M.A., Vicar of Nassington, afterwards Vicar of St. Martin's and Warden of Browne's Hospital, Stamford, and had issue.
- (3) Catherine, married . . . Ring.

- (4) Mary, of Upton, Northants, spinster, died 27 Jan. 1679. M.I. in chapel of Browne's Hospital. Arms: On a bend between three pheons, three roundels (Wright, "Story of the 'Domus Dei' of Stamford," p. 64). Her will, dated 22 Jan. 1679, in which she makes her "beloved brother-in-law" John Lawrence, residuary legatee and sole executor, was proved P.C.C. 4 May 1680 (66 Bath).

John Stubbs married, secondly, Bridget, widow of John Edwards of Stibbington. Marriage licence (V.G.) dated 8 May 1662. The will of John Stubbs, in which he is described as of Stibbington, date left blank, was proved P.C.C., 2 Jan. 1670-1 (9 Duke), by Catherine Ring alias Stubbs.

- III. Robert Stubbs, born circa 1641. Of Barnard's Inn, 3 Dec. 1657, when he was admitted to Gray's Inn. Acquired under his father's will a life interest in all his lands and freehold and copyhold messuages at Nassington. A party to an indenture, dated 16 Nov. 1667, relating to property in St. Nicholas' parish, Rochester, therein described as "son and heir of Elizabeth Stubbs, deceased, late wife of John Stubbs, of Barnard's Inn, co. Middx., gent., the said Elizabeth being surviving daughter and heiress of George Barnewell, late of the city of Rochester, co. Kent, gent., deceased" (Archæologia Cantiana, vol. xviii, p. 214). Owned the house at the west end of Browne's Hospital, Stamford, in which the founder is supposed to have resided (Wright, "Story of 'Domus Dei,'" p. 65, footnote). Robert Stubbs married Elizabeth, daughter of John and Bridget Edwards of Stibbington. Marriage licence (V.G.) of the same date as her mother's. Administration of the goods of Robert Stubbs was granted to his widow Elizabeth, P.C.C. 15 Feb. 1676-7.
- IV. John Stubbs, son of Robert and Elizabeth Stubbs, born circa 1664, on whom his grandfather settled his Nassington property in remainder after his father, was living 1684.

NOTES ON KENRICK FAMILIES.

By W. F. CARTER.

I now return to TIMOTHY KENRICK, third son of Archibald, son of John and Mary (Quarrell) Kenrick (see ante, p. 122). He was born 26th June 1807, and joined his father and brothers in the West Bromwich business. He became in 1858 a Director, and later, Deputy Chairman, of the Midland Railway Company, and was also Deputy Chairman of Lloyd's Bank. He was among the number of those who helped to secure for Birmingham the Hall and part of the Park of Aston, once the seat of the Holte family. Mr. Kenrick lived at Maple Bank, Edgbaston, and was a J.P. for the County of Stafford. He married on the 10th of February 1837, Maria Paget, daughter of Thomas Paget, of Leicester, surgeon; she, as already shown,⁸⁵ was first cousin to Ann Paget, wife of Archibald Kenrick the younger. Mrs. Timothy Kenrick, who was born 21st February 1808, died at Maple Bank, aged 68 years, on the 5th May 1876,⁸⁶ and Mr. Timothy Kenrick died 23rd February 1885.⁸⁷ Their issue was as follows:—

1. Archibald Kenrick, born 30th April 1842, and now of Broom House, Bournemouth. He married at Birmingham, 27th July 1869, Emily Purdie Selman, daughter of John Selman,⁸⁸ of Birmingham, and by her, who died 25th April 1907,⁸⁹ had the following issue:—

⁸⁷ Ibid.

⁸⁹ "Birmingham Daily Post."

- (1). Archibald Kenrick, born 14th August 1875, and now living unmarried at Fountain Road, Edgbaston.
- (2). Hugh Kenrick, born 21st September 1877, now living unmarried at Salisbury.
- (1). Bertha Kenrick, born 14th April 1870, and died unmarried in 1899.
- (2). Sylvia Kenrick, born 26th May 1871, and now living unmarried at Fountain Road, Edgbaston.
- (3). Adelaide Kenrick, born 16th April 1872, and now living unmarried at Bournemouth.
- (4). Dorothea Kenrick, born 17th August 1873, and now living unmarried at Bournemouth.
- (5). Maria Kenrick, born 11th October 1879, and now living unmarried at Bournemouth.
- (6). Emily Kenrick, born 21st October 1881, and now living unmarried at Bournemouth.
2. Hubert Kenrick, born 27th May 1843, and died unmarried 10th November 1865.
3. George Hamilton Kenrick, born 13th January 1850, now living unmarried at Whetstone, Edgbaston. Mr. Kenrick was educated at a private school at Brighton, and subsequently at London University School. He joined the family Firm, but residing at Birmingham, was on 16th December 1880 co-opted a Member of the Birmingham School Board, in place of Dr. R. W. Dale, who retired. Mr. Kenrick became Vice-Chairman of the School Board on 30th May 1906, and in 1907 was again elected Vice-Chairman for a period of three years. In 1902, on the abolition of School Boards, he was elected to the Birmingham City Council. On the 6th April 1903, he became Chairman of the Education Committee of the Council, and in November 1908 was elected Lord Mayor of Birmingham.
1. Emily Kenrick, born 15th July 1838. She married, on the 8th of May 1860, Thomas Martineau,⁹⁰ an eminent Solicitor

⁹⁰ The Martineau family was founded in England by Gaston Martineau, of Bergerac in Perigord, who came over about the time of the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes, and was naturalised in 1688. He is called in the official document son of Elie and Margaret Martineau of Bergerac, and the "Dossier Martineau" in the National Library of Paris traces the descent of this Elie through four (but it should probably be five) generations from Romain Martineau who, about 1450, was a member of the French Noblesse, "Ecuyer," and "Seigneur de Romas," which lordship is on the borders of Saintonge and Poitou. These Martineaus generally bore for arms—Azure, three towers Argent, masoned Sable, but the English Martineaus have always used—probably under a misapprehension—Paly, counter-paly Or and Gules, on a fess of the second three roses Argent, the arms of the Touraine Martineaus. Gaston's grandson David was the father of four sons, ancestors of as many families of Martineau. Thomas, the youngest of the four, was the father of Harriet Martineau, the celebrated authoress, James Martineau, D.D., the noted Unitarian divine and philosopher, and Robert Martineau, father of the above-mentioned (Sir) Thomas Martineau. See "The Martineau Family," by David Martineau, privately printed, 1907, an admirable model of a family history.

of Birmingham, son of Robert Martineau, Mayor of Birmingham in 1846. Mr. Martineau served for many years (1876-1893) on the Town Council of Birmingham, of which city he was three times (1884-1887) Mayor; and in 1887 received the honour of Knighthood. He died 28th July 1893, and Lady Martineau 26th December 1899. They had issue:—

(1). Ernest Martineau, born 1861, now living; a City Councillor of Birmingham and Lieut.-Colonel in the Sixth Battalion of the Royal Warwickshire Regiment. He married Margaret Kendrick, daughter of Walter and Margaret Kendrick, of Birmingham. They have issue, three children.

(2). John Hubert Martineau, born 1867, died 1878.

(1). Clara Martineau, born 1874.

2. Eliza Rebecca Kenrick, born 20th October 1839. She married 14th April 1863, Henry Follett Osler,⁹¹ of Burcot Grange, Bromsgrove, and dying 10th July 1903, left issue, one daughter, Jessie Follett Osler, born 1869.

3. Clara Maria Kenrick, born 17th January 1841. She died unmarried 17th May 1860.

4. Alice Kenrick, born 26th May 1845. She married, 7th August 1868, Charles Gabriel Beale,⁹² of Maple Bank, Edgbaston. Mr. Beale, who is a member of the well-known firm of Solicitors acting as legal advisers to the Midland Railway Company,

⁹¹ I have not a detailed pedigree of the Osler family, which is well known in Birmingham, where it was founded by Thomas Osler (1745-1825), of Bridgwater. He had issue, Thomas Osler (1783-1861), who married Fanny Follett, and had issue:—

I. Abraham Follett Osler (1808-1903), married Mary Clarke, and had issue, Henry Follett Osler, now living, who married Eliza Rebecca Kenrick, as stated above.

II. Thomas Clarkson Osler (1811-1876), married Amy Lewis Hornblower, and was father of Alfred Clarkson Osler, born 1846, who married Elizabeth Catherine Taylor, daughter of William Taylor, and niece of the late Peter Taylor, M.P. for Leicester. Mr. Alfred Osler, died in 1903, leaving two sons surviving, John Taylor Osler and Julian Alfred Osler.

⁹² This typically Warwickshire name has been in the county for centuries, chiefly in the south and in the district bordering on Leicestershire. I believe it is in one of George Eliot's novels—but I have mislaid the reference—that one of the characters lays it down that "Bales and Beales be all the same," and accordingly both are found sprinkled pretty plentifully throughout the "Register of the Guild of Knowle," which refers chiefly to the fourteenth century. In several generations of the Beales of Birmingham "Middlemore" appears as a Christian name, for which and other reasons I have no doubt that they are descended from Richard "Bale" of Nuneaton, who, according to the 1682 Visitation of Northamptonshire, married Dorothy, daughter of Richard Middlemore of Whitley juxta Coventry, afterwards of De la Pree, Northants. She was doubtless the Dorothy Beale who in her nuncupative will, dated 4th August 1664, being then a widow, mentions her son Charles and her daughter Elizabeth.

has been three times Lord Mayor of Birmingham (1897, 1898, 1899), and is Vice-Chancellor of Birmingham University. Mr. and Mrs. Beale have issue :—

- (1). Hubert Kenrick Beale, born 1869, married in 1903 Mabel Kenrick, second daughter of John Arthur Kenrick, of Edgbaston (see ante, p. 124). They have issue, two children.
 - (2). Edmund Phipson Beale, born 1870, married Annie Lucy Smith, daughter of Arthur Smith, of Edgbaston.
 - (1). Edith Mary Beale, born 1870, married George Slade. They have issue, four children.
 - (2). Norah Beale, born 1874, married in 1906 Wilfred Byng Kenrick, of Edgbaston, elder son of the Right Hon. William and Mrs. Kenrick (see ante, p. 125). They have issue, one daughter.
5. Florence Kenrick (twin with her sister Louisa), born 19th August 1847. She married, as his second wife,⁹³ Joseph Chamberlain (now the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, P.C., M.P., etc.), and died 14th February 1875. The issue of this marriage was as follows :—
- (1). Arthur Neville Chamberlain.
 - (1). Florence Ida Chamberlain.
 - (2). Caroline Hilda Chamberlain.
 - (3). Ethel Chamberlain, born 1873, married W. L. Richards, and died in 1903, leaving issue, one daughter.
6. Louisa Kenrick (twin with her sister Florence), born 20th August 1847. She married, 3rd June 1869, Arthur Chamberlain, son of Joseph Chamberlain, of Moor Green, near Birmingham, and younger brother of the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain. She died 18th January 1892. The issue of this marriage was :—
- (1). Arthur Chamberlain, married Helen Jackson. They have issue, one child.
 - (2). John Chamberlain, married Hilda Poynting. They have issue, one child.
 - (1). Margaret Chamberlain. She married John Sutton Nettlefold, a City Councillor of Birmingham and J.P. for the County of Worcester, author of "Practical Housing." They have had issue, five children.
 - (2). Helen Chamberlain, married Gerald Beesley. They have issue, three children.

⁹³ Mr. Chamberlain's first wife was, as already stated (ante, p. 123), daughter of Mr. Archibald Kenrick the younger, and consequently the two wives were first cousins.

- (3). Katharine Chamberlain, married Nathaniel Bishop Harman. They have issue, two children.
- (4). Bertha Chamberlain, married Donald Hope. They have issue, two children.
- (5). Mary Chamberlain.
- (6). Ruth Chamberlain.
- (7). Charlotte Chamberlain.

I now give the three pedigrees called "A," "B" and "C," omitted for the sake of clearness from the account of the Kenricks of Wynn Hall, and concerning which I can add but little to the information given by the Family Pedigree.

PEDIGREE "A."

EDWARD KENRICK (son of Samuel, son of Edward⁹⁴) was born presumably about 1680, and was the eldest son. He was a Nonconformist minister of Bron-y-clydwr, near Towyn, Merionethshire, and died 3rd May 1741, being buried at Llanegryn on the 6th. He married . . . Owen, one of the two daughters⁹⁵ and coheirs of Hugh Owen, of Bron-y-clydwr. They had issue (together with a son, Samuel,⁹⁶ of whom I only know his name, and a daughter of whom it is only known that she was married) a son :—

JOHN KENRICK (son of Edward, son of Samuel, son of Edward). He is described⁹⁷ as "The Reverend John Kenrick, of The Green, Wrexham." In 1730-4, and afterwards, he was studying at Glasgow College.⁹⁸ He married first, ... who died in 1731,⁹⁹ and second, ... Owen, who died 24th January 1763. He died 6th January 1791, and was, I suppose, the John Kenrick buried on the 10th at the Chester Street Burial Ground, Wrexham, as "John Kenrick, of the parish of Wrexham, aged 80."¹⁰⁰ He had, by his second wife, the following issue :—

1. Edward Kenrick, born 20th June 1749 ; died in Jamaica, 1826-7.
2. John Kenrick, of Manchester, born 9th February 1753 ; married Evans, of Bala, and had issue :—
 - (1). Hugh Kenrick.
 - (2). David Kenrick.

⁹⁴ See vol. xxiv, p. 171.

⁹⁵ This is Mr. Palmer's statement, the Family Pedigree says "only daughter."

⁹⁶ Ex inf. Mr. A. N. Palmer.

⁹⁷ Family Pedigree.

⁹⁸ Ex inf. Mr. A. N. Palmer.

⁹⁹ So states the Family Pedigree, but if the date is correct, he must have married very young, and been a widower when studying for the ministry.

¹⁰⁰ Mr. Palmer thinks this may have been another person, and moreover called "The Reverend;" but the coincidence of dates seems so exact as to practically prove the identification.

- (3). John Kenrick, of London, Solicitor.
- (4). Edward Kenrick.
- (5). William Kenrick.
- (1). Ann Kenrick, married Tomlinson, of Manchester, Solicitor.
- (2). Catherine Kenrick.
- (3). Mary Kenrick.
- 3. Hugh Kenrick, born 5th March 1754, and died 2nd April 1833. He married Sarah Willington, by whom he had three sons and five daughters, as follows :—
 - (1). John Owen Kenrick, born 17th May 1796 ; married Mary Milne of Usk.
 - (2). Hugh Edward Kenrick, born 10th September 1798. Died 1st February 1799.
 - (3). Edward Kenrick, born 14th April 1801. Died 7th April 1815.
 - (1). Anne Kenrick, born 15th May and died July 1786.
 - (2). Mary Kenrick, born 3rd February 1788. Died February 1792.
 - (3). Anne Kenrick, born 22nd November 1789.
 - (4). Sarah Kenrick, born 13th March 1792.
 - (5). Dorcas Kenrick, born 27th April 1804 ; married in 1826, W. Gregory.

PEDIGREE "B."

SAMUEL KENRICK (son of Samuel, son of Edward) was born about 1685-1690, is mentioned in his father's will and was a dyer of Wrexham.¹⁰¹ He married Elizabeth Parkins,¹⁰² who was, perhaps, the "Elizabeth Kenrick, widow," buried as "Elizabeth Kenrick, Brookside, widow," at the Rhossdu Burying Ground, Wrexham, 25th May 1758. If so, he probably died between that date and 31st January 1755, when Elizabeth, whom I take to have been his son's daughter, was baptized¹⁰³ as "daughter of Samuel Kenrick, junr." He had, according to the Family Pedigree, the following issue¹⁰⁴ :—

- 1. Samuel Kenrick, of whom below.
- 1. Elizabeth Kenrick, "baptized at Wrexham," 14th April 1704. Living 1712.¹⁰⁵

¹⁰¹ Mr. Palmer's information.

¹⁰² Family Pedigree.

¹⁰³ At the Prebyterian Chapel, Wrexham.

¹⁰⁴ He can hardly have been the father of the "William son of Samuel Kenrick" baptized at the Chapel 25th April 1747, or of "Margaret daughter of Samuel Kenrick" baptized there 16th July 1749.

¹⁰⁵ Family pedigree, probably on the authority of her grandfather's will: if so, my abstract is incomplete.

SAMUEL KENRICK (son of Samuel, son of Samuel, son of Edward). He, as we have seen,¹⁰⁶ was mentioned in the will of his grandfather. If he was father of William or Margaret, mentioned in note 104, he cannot have been the Samuel Kenrick, bachelor, of Wrexham, who married Hannah Parry, spinster, of Wrexham, on 10th November 1754.¹⁰⁷ He may have been the "Samuel Kenrick, dyer," whose burial on 29th February 1780 was registered at the Presbyterian Chapel. He may have had the following issue, but I cannot speak with certainty as there seems to have been a contemporary of the same names in the town¹⁰⁸ :—

1. William Kenrick, "son of Samuel Kenrick, dyer," buried 27th January 1759.¹⁰⁹
1. Elizabeth Kenrick, "daughter of Samuel Kenrick, junr.," baptized 31st January 1755.¹⁰⁹ Identical, I suppose, with "Elizabeth the daughter of Samuel Kenrick, dyer, and wife of Jonathan Perry," buried 22nd February 1782.¹⁰⁹
2. Martha Kenrick, "daughter of Samuel Kenrick, dyer, of Mold," baptized 15th March 1762.¹⁰⁹

PEDIGREE "C."

EDWARD KENRICK (son of the Rev. John, son of Samuel, son of Edward¹¹⁰) was born 20th September 1731, and was a Banker at Bewdley with his brother Samuel. He is mentioned in the will of his mother, and was one of her residuary legatees and executors. He died in 1779, having married Elizabeth Hassall, by whom he had the following issue—

1. John Kenrick, of whom below.
1. Sarah Kenrick, born 1772, died 1855. She married Henry Haywood, of Paddington.
2. Elizabeth Kenrick, born 1775, died 1820. She married William Kenrick, who was "of Berkshire," but of whom it is understood that he was no relation.

JOHN KENRICK (son of Edward) was born in 1769. He was of Birmingham, but died in Batavia. His wife's name is unknown, but they had issue :—

¹⁰⁶ See vol. xxiv, p. 172.

¹⁰⁷ Mr. Palmer, from the Parish Registers of Wrexham.

¹⁰⁸ See note 104 above. The will also of Daniel Kenrick of Wrexham, distiller, dated 25th Feb. 1747 and proved at Chester 20th May 1757, mentions among his four children, all apparently of full age, a son Samuel.

JOHN DE VERDUN.

In the course of an article on the Butlers in The Genealogist for October 1908, Mr. Hamilton Hall endeavours to prove that John de Verdun was not, as has hitherto been supposed, son of Theobald the Butler by Rohese de Verdun his wife, but son of Rohese by a previous unknown and unsuspected marriage. In support of this theory he quotes the letters close dated 4 Sep. 1225, by which Henry III gave his consent to the marriage of Theobald and Rohese, and points out that Rohese was succeeded by John de Verdun as her heir of full age, 3 May 1247. This was 21 years and 8 months after the date of the letters, and therefore proves nothing, even supposing—which is a good deal to suppose—that John was 21 years old, and not a day less, on 3 May 1247.

Mr. Hall continues:—"He [John de Verdun] was also of full age by 14 May 1244; for on that date mandate issues that he and Margaret his wife shall have seisin of their as yet undivided moiety of the lands of her grandfather Walter de Lacy. It is therefore clear that he was born by May 1223 if no earlier." Now in an article on the family of De Lacy [Genealogist, N.S., vol. xxi], I cited this mandate of 1244, and also admitted that John de Verdun was son of Theobald the Butler. The letters of 4 Sep. 1225 mentioned above are not only in the printed Close Rolls and noticed by Lynch, but are also duly quoted by Dugdale in his Baronage. No one dealing with the subject could have possibly overlooked them. If therefore the order of May 1244 proves on the face of it what Mr. Hall assumes it to prove, it follows that I have been guilty of an inexcusable lapse.

But the fact is that this letter is merely evidence that the two ladies, Margaret and Matilda de Lacy, had each reached her age of 16, and affords no information at all concerning the ages of their respective husbands. Mr. Hall is unaware that the husband's age was altogether a matter of indifference in such a case. And that therefore any document giving to John de Verdun "by grace this seisin in his nonage" would be superfluous and impossible. There is no doubt whatever about this. Bracton is precise, and concise:—

"Si autem vir et uxor vel e contrario hæreditatem et rem uxoriæ simul petant, quorum unus eorum sit infra ætatem, si vir plenæ ætatis fuerit et uxor infra, sive ante breve impetratum sive post contraxerint, remanebit loquela sine die usque ad ætatem uxoris quæ fuerit infra ætatem, et hoc si nupserit ante breve impetratum. Si autem post, cadit omnino breve si tenens voluerit, vel differtur actio usque ad ætatem uxoris de cujus jure agitur. Si vero maritus fuerit infra ætatem et uxor plenæ ætatis, non remanebit loquela propter minorem ætatem viri (ut supra) si contraxerint ante breve."

As to Mr. Hall's further objection that "one has not met . . . with mention of any dower of Roesia, save what she took by the precipitate mandates on the death of Theobald," there is an order on the Close Rolls concerning this dower, dated some fifteen months after Theobald's death. It of course possesses no genealogical significance whatever.

¹ There would seem to be two clerical errors in the documentary evidences relating to this family. (1) The entry in the Act of Naturalization gives us:—David Pratviel, son of Peter Malacare by Lydia Auriol also at Castres aforesaid. But the refugee's father is believed to have been Tristan Malacare. The M. de Malacare, who found his way to S. Carolina about the same time as John de Lagayé, belonged to a different family—that of de St. Julien. (2) The Church Register Books, four in number, of the British "Factory" at Lisbon, now preserved in the Vicar-General's Office, from which the baptisms of David Pratviel's nine children have been obtained, give his bride as Mary Sendal. But there is abundant proof that her name was Sarah, and it has been altered accordingly. These books, invaluable as they are, are only transcripts, the "Factory" archives having been lost in 1808, when, on the entry of the French into Lisbon, it was thought advisable to send them for safety to England, and the ship which carried them foundered in a storm in the Bay of Biscay.

² These were David, bap. 5 April 1729; Peter, bap. 27 July 1732; Frances, bap. 7 Jan. 1734; Elizabeth, bap. 28 Nov. 1734; and Isaac, bap. 4 Feb. 1737.

THE SCOTS PEERAGE. Edited by Sir James Balfour Paul, LL.D., Lord Lyon King of Arms. Volume v. Edinburgh (David Douglas).

Nearly all the pedigrees in this fifth volume of the Scots Peerage commence in feudal times, and some of them at an almost pre-historic period, so that the contributors have had a by no means easy task. It will be very generally agreed that they have for the most part acquitted themselves with marked ability and success.

The Rev. A. J. Macdonald in his article on the Lords of the Isles has had to deal with one of the most difficult of Celtic genealogies, and he has greatly improved on the historical account of the Macdonalds contained in Wood's Douglas, showing among other alterations that Sir Walter Scott's hero, Angus Og, was brother, not son, of Alexander the preceding Lord of the Isles. In one instance Mr. Macdonald has been less cautious than Wood, for he admits the descent of the Alexanders, Earls of Caledon, from a brother of Angus Mor, which we do not remember to have seen satisfactorily made out.

The Rev. John Anderson, whose work is always remarkable for accuracy and industrious research, contributes to this volume articles on the Celtic Earls of Lennox and the ancient Earls of Mar. In the case of the former he has discarded the Saxon origin suggested by Crawford and since adopted both by Douglas and Sir William Fraser, in favour of the view taken by Dr. Skene in his Celtic Scotland, which considers Alwin, who was Earl of Lennox between 1154 and 1185, as descended from Celtic forefathers, who had probably long been Mormaors of the territory afterwards known as Lennox. Coming to later times, Mr. Anderson gives the true descent of Walter of Faslane, husband of the heiress of the ancient Earls, and shows him to have been next heir male of the line.

The article upon the feudal Earls of Mar closely follows that by the late Dr. George Burnett, Lyon King of Arms, in the fourth volume of the new series of this Magazine, though with some changes and corrections; the somewhat mysterious Countess Orabilis, for instance, is made wife of Earl Gilchrist and not of his predecessor Morgund. In his commendable anxiety to avoid re-opening the thorny discussion as to the existence of the ancient Earldom, Mr. Anderson has, perhaps, rendered it a little difficult for posterity to comprehend the questions at issue between the parties to the controversy, which ended in one of the most extraordinary Acts of Parliament which has ever been placed upon the Statute Book—the Mar Restitution Act of 1885. It may be noted in passing that in this article on p. 629, Mary Erskine, Countess of Kintore, is said to have died 19 February 1772, while on p. 241, under “Kintore,” the date of her death is given as 9 May of the same year.

We have unfortunately no space to consider the many other valuable articles in this volume, but may signal out for notice those on the Stewarts, Dukes of Lennox, and the Boyds, Earls of Kilmarnock, both of which are especially interesting and most carefully written.

MEMORIAL RINGS, CHARLES THE SECOND TO WILLIAM THE FOURTH, IN THE POSSESSION OF FREDERICK ARTHUR CRISP. (Privately printed.)

The collection, of which this substantial volume is a catalogue with explanatory notes, is probably the largest of its kind in existence, numbering over one thousand rings in memory of the departed. Mr. Bower Marsh's introduction gives to the subject of these sad mementoes an interest we hardly expected to find. He divides them into four divisions, the first covering the period from the date of the earliest inscribed ring to the reign of Queen Anne, the second from that time to about 1775, the third as comprehending the following twenty-five years, and the last as embracing the nineteenth century. The mourning ring of old days is said to have developed after the execution of King Charles into the memorial ring, and there exist some to that unfortunate monarch's memory bearing the legend, Emigravit Gloria Angli: Ja: the 30 1648. It is somewhat remarkable that this large collection should consist entirely of gold rings, many enamelled and jewelled, with the exception of but two, which are of silver, one to commemorate the death of George I, the other in memory of the Poet Gay. The earliest is dated 1653, the latest 1835, and the list of names includes many royalties, heroes, celebrities and unknown individuals, one of the last having the strange surname Madfaces. Armorial bearings seem to have been but rarely represented, and we note only one and that on a ring inscribed M.B. ob. 25 Aug. 1720 ætæ 47. The arms are undoubtedly those of Basset, and it should be possible to discover to whose memory it relates. There are numerous other rings commemorating the deaths of persons as yet unidentified, but those that have been accounted for constitute a high percentage, and the notes given in most cases consist of much valuable genealogical matter. Sometimes these notes show a discrepancy between the actual and the inscribed date of death. There are several instances of a testator leaving a list of the persons he desired should receive memorial rings, of which two occurring on pages 119 and 273 are noteworthy. Of the inscriptions, perhaps the most curious is to be found on number 909, which runs as follows:—John Napier of Merchiston Inventor of Logarithms died 1617. Mary Napier Dun his 4th great grand Daughter died 1798, showing a period of over 180 years for four generations. There are many known instances of a similar nature, and some still more remarkable. The late Captain Francis Maude, R.N. (son of Lord Hawarden), who died in 1886, occasionally referred to the fact that his grandfather was born in the reign of Charles II. In regard to the printing, paper and cover of this handsome volume, it is sufficient to say that it issues from Mr. Crisp's private press and is as charming in appearance as the best of his numerous publications.

BALL FAMILY RECORDS. GENEALOGICAL MEMOIRS OF SOME BALL FAMILIES OF GREAT BRITAIN, IRELAND AND AMERICA. Compiled by the Rev. William Ball Wright, M.A. Second Edition, Enlarged and Revised. York (Printed for the Author by the Yorkshire Printing Co. Ltd.).

Though "Great Britain, Ireland and America" appear upon the title page, this book in fact relates almost exclusively to Irish families, only one entirely English, two American, and no Scottish pedigree being contained within its covers. The Irish records have been very carefully investigated, and in a few instances researches have been made in England, with a view to tracing earlier descents; the often disheartening result being in no way due to the author, who may be congratulated upon having produced a work of permanent value and interest. Among the Irish families whose genealogies are given are:—

(1) The Balls of St. Audoen's, Dublin, Ballygall and Ballsgrove, Drogheda, members of which family were leading Aldermen, Sheriffs and Mayors of Dublin during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. They acquired some interesting connections, including a relationship to Archbishop Ussher, whose portrait in the Bodleian Library has been here reproduced, and a descent from the Huguenot family of Desminieres of Rouen. Of this line was Captain George Ball of Ballsgrove, who served in the 59th Regiment at Bunker's Hill, and his portrait is among the many illustrations to this work.

(2) The Balls of co. Fermanagh and of Dublin, who curiously, though not related to the Balls of Ballsgrove, also possessed a Desminieres descent, by intermarriage with the family of Blackall. A descendant, Captain Blackall William Ball, son of an emigrant to Pennsylvania, was a prominent officer in the American revolution.

(3) The Balls of Bampton, co. Devon and Youghal, co. Cork, ancestors of Sir Robert Stawell Ball, Lowndes Professor of Astronomy at Cambridge.

(4) The Balls of St. Mary's parish, Dublin, from which stock came the late Right Hon. John Thomas Ball, Lord Chancellor of Ireland, one of the most distinguished of Irish judges, of whom a graceful notice appears on pp. 144-147.

The concluding chapters are devoted to the consideration of the Balls of Virginia, maternal ancestors of George Washington. Though it cannot be said that a substantial addition is made here to what has long been familiar to genealogists, the pedigree and accompanying notes are welcome. The Appendix contains some valuable transcripts of Irish records and a pedigree of the Desminieres. The Index of names is unfortunately far from complete.

PEDIGREE OF THE COCHRANES OF COCHRANE, LORD COCHRANE OF DUNDONALD; EARLS OF DUNDONALD, LORDS COCHRANE OF PAISLEY AND OCHILTREE, WITH A FEW DETAILS OF THE BRANCHES OF PITFOUR, LEE AND ASCOKE, BARBACHLAW, FERGUSLIE, OCHILTREE, WATERSIDE, KILMARONACH, CRAIGMURE AND ASHKIRK. 1908. (Sold by Bernard Quaritch.)

For upwards of twenty years Mrs. Katherine Parker has been working on the genealogy of the Cochrane family, and in 1906 contributed to the third volume of the Scots Peerage an able and detailed account of the Cochranes, Earls of Dundonald. In the present chart pedigree she embodies the essential facts and dates contained in that article with several additions, chiefly to the descents of the Cochranes of Pitfour, Barbachlaw and Ashkirk, which are much enlarged. An important correction or alteration is made in the early part of the pedigree owing to the discovery, since the publication of the Dundonald article, of a valuable inventory of writs. John of Cochrane, who was living temp. James II, the successor and probable son of Robert, now appears as brother and not as suggested father of Alan of Cochrane, the progenitor of the Cochranes of that ilk. A simple coloured representation of Lord Dundonald's achievement gives a finish to this excellent chart, which is printed on linen and folded in a stiff cloth cover. The Rev. John Anderson, Curator of the Historical Department, Edinburgh, has revised the work, thus adding valuable testimony to its accuracy.

WILTSHIRE NOTES AND QUERIES. AN ILLUSTRATED QUARTERLY ANTIQUARIAN AND GENEALOGICAL MAGAZINE. Vol. v. 1905-1907. Devises (George Simpson); London (Phillimore & Co.), 1908.

There is always much that is interesting and, better still, much that is worth remembering in the triennial volume of "Wiltshire Notes and Queries," which maintains its reputation as one of the best of local archaeological periodicals. Miss E. M. Thompson continues her notes on Erchfont with Stert, which consist entirely of carefully selected extracts from public records. Mr. Fry's Calendar of Feet of Fines for the County is carried to Michaelmas Term, 9-10 Elizabeth, and Mr. Norman Penney also continues his valuable Quaker Records. The Rev. Edmund Nevill contributes the Chrysom Book of St. Thomas, New Sarum, 1569-1592, and this of itself is sufficient to recommend the volume to the notice of antiquaries, for, as Mr. Nevill says, it is almost unique to find a Chrysom Book pure and simple. Other interesting articles are those on the families of Eyre of Wilts and Stokes of Seend, "Lacock Abbey," and "Wilton House and its Literary Associations." The volume is profusely illustrated, and the Index of Places, as it always is in this Magazine, has been compiled with great care, considerable pains having been taken to give the modern equivalent of archaic place names.

WILLS, REGISTERS AND MONUMENTAL INSCRIPTIONS OF THE PARISH OF BARWICK-IN-ELMET, CO. YORK. Edited by George Denison Lumb, F.S.A. (Printed for the subscribers by Knight & Forster, Water Lane, Leeds.)

It is pleasing to be able to bear testimony to the careful way in which these important Registers have been transcribed and edited. Mr. Lumb sets an example, which we hope may be widely followed, of printing Wills, Monumental Inscriptions in Church and Churchyard, and Bishop's Transcripts, together with the Parochial Registers. The Registers of Barwick-in-Elmet do not commence until 1653, so that the transcripts at York previous to that date are of more than ordinary value; they are for the period 1631-1642 unusually complete. No less than ninety-four wills, most of them proved in the Exchequer and Prerogative Court of the Archbishop of York, have been printed in extenso, the earliest in date being that of William Canon, Rector of Barwick, 1404-1420. Among the most prominent families in the parish in early times were those of Gascoigne of Lasingcroft, Barnbow and Parlington, and Ellis of Kiddall. There are also entries relating to many gentle families, as Bathurst, Cooke, Engleby or Ingleby, Hallows, Lumb, More, Perrot and Tempest. The editor has added footnotes containing much interesting information and there are several notices of Church Briefs, one of them in 1694 being for the relief of poor Protestants who came from France.

KERRY ARCHAEOLOGICAL MAGAZINE. No. i. October, 1908.

This is a new venture, to which we wish every success. The most important contribution to the opening number is the first instalment of an article on Castle Magne, or Castlemaine, by the Rev. J.

Carmody, who inclines to the view that this ancient fortress standing on the bridge which spans the river Maine, was built by Maurice Fitzgerald about 1215. Mr. Pierce Gun Mahony, Cork Herald, gives a pedigree of the Mahonys of Knockavony, with a request for further information. The Editor of the new Magazine is Miss Charlotte Hussey, Aghadoe House, Killarney. A portrait of the Earl of Kenmare, President of the recently inaugurated Kerry Archæological Association, appears as a frontispiece.

Notes and Queries.

HALLEY, HAWLEY, WHALLEY FAMILIES.—Since the publication of my article on the Halley family in The Genealogist for July, 1908 (N.S., vol. xxv, pp. 5-14), the remarks following have been made by Richard H. Thornton, Esq., of London:—

"I incline to think that Halley, Whalley and Hawley are variants of one name, and that wh and h are sometimes equivalent: living examples being found in who, whole, etc.: and obsolete ones in whot for hot, whome for home, etc. (see Aldis Wright's 'Bible Word-book'). Also the surname Hipple became Whipple and whist and hist are equivalent.

"I used to pronounce Halley with a short ă, having probably picked up that use when a child; but I suppose it should be like Hawley."

It might be added that Lower says of the English surname Halley, that it is local but he cannot name the place. The coats armorial of the families of Whalley do not seem to have any resemblance to those of Halley or Hawley.

Mr. Ralph J. Beever, M.A., of St. Albans, who recently visited the registry at Lichfield, has favoured me with an extensive list of Halley and Hawley wills and administrations recorded there. The names Halley and Hawley appear to have been interchangeable. Among the most interesting items is the administration of Humphrey and Margaret Halley (July 1, 1597) of Cheddleton in Staffordshire (reg., fo. 190 b). The will of Margerie Halley, of Nether Teane, widow, dated Feb. 17, 1629, proved May 24, 1630, says: "to be buried at Checkley," and among others mentions her son Edmond. The will of her husband, John Hawley, dated March 12, 1606, was proved April 7, 1607.

WILLIAM FERRERS OF TAPLOW.—Arms recorded in the Visitation of London, 1633-4—Gold, on a bend Sable three horseshoes Silver. These are the arms of the Devonshire Ferrers. Memorials in Bere Ferrers Church, Feniton Church and Bradley Woods, and also recorded in Lysons' "Devonshire." Taplow was Church land until it was surrendered into the King's hands in 1538; so William Ferrers would appear to have been at Taplow in the King's service. According to Stow (London—Farringdon Without) in 1539 Thomas Ferrers was Sheriff. John Ferrers of Churston Ferrers (Patent Roll, xvii, 1389), had a younger son, Thomas of North Abynton, who died 1453 (will and I.P.M.), having had a son Henry; two of whose sons, Martin of Holborn (will 1503), and William of London (Patent Roll, xx), settled in London. William Ferrers of Taplow's descendants are continued in the Visitation of Berkshire 1663-4.

CECIL S. F. FERRERS, Captain.

HASSAL, LONGSDON, MILWARD AND JACKSON FAMILIES.—I should be greatly obliged if any readers of The Genealogist would kindly give me the following details:—

(1). My ancestor Thomas Beresford of Newton Grange, co. Derby, married Agnes, daughter and heir of Robert Hassal of Arclid, co. Chester. As I am descended from this union in a double line (through both the Gell and Ferne families), I am anxious to know details of the ancestry of this Agnes Hassal.

(2). The ancestry of Agnes, daughter of John Longsdon of Longsdon, co. Derby, who married Hugh Beresford of Newton Grange, co. Derby (will proved 1524).

(3). The ancestry of Felicia, daughter of Robert Milward of Eaton, who married John Ferne of Parwich.

(4). The ancestry of Ann, daughter of Roger Jackson of Ashburn, who married John Ferne of Crakemarsh. (Vide The Genealogist, O.S., vol. iv, p. 22.)

I would ask for details of their ancestry, and not for mere general information concerning their family.

FRANCES, DAUGHTER OF LORD SEYMOUR OF TROWBRIDGE.—May I crave space to correct an error in Burke's Peerage? It is one connected with the second Lord Seymour of Trowbridge. Burke (ed. 1907), says that Frances was his youngest daughter. The following autograph letter shews that she was not.

Salisbury Diocesan Registry. Bundle 3. Bishops Bonds 1663-4. "I hereby consent that Sir George Hungerford, Kt. and Barronet, shall enter-marriage with Frances my eldest daughter, and therefore desire the Lord Bishop of Sarum his surrogate Register, or other official to grant Lycence for the consummation thereof accordingly witness my hand and seale. C. Seymour. 28 Mar. 1664." (Underneath in fainter ink, Liña 30 Mar. 1665.)

Why also does Burke call the first Baron "Lord Seymour of Trowbridge," the second "Lord Trowbridge" only?

ELLIOT STOCK'S NEW BOOKS.

Crown 8vo., Cloth. Price 3s. 6d.

THE LAW CONCERNING NAMES AND CHANGES OF NAME.

By A. C. FOX DAVIES (of Lincoln's Inn), Barrister-at-Law, and P. W. P. CARLYON-BRITTON, F.S.A.

This volume should form a useful handbook to those members of the legal profession who are brought into contact with the subject from a professional standpoint. In addition, it will be profitably read by those of the general public who are their own lawyers. To the wider public the book should also appeal, as a considerable portion of its text is devoted to the more popular subject of names in general and their sources of origin and methods of development.

CHEAP EDITION.—Demy 8vo, Cloth. Price 5s. net. (post free, 5s. 5d.)

THE SMITH FAMILY:

*Being a Popular History of most Branches of the Name, however Spelt,
from the Fourteenth Century downwards.*

With many Pedigrees, now printed for the first time, and some account of the numerous celebrities who have borne the name under its various renderings.

By COMPTON READE, M.A., MAGDALEN COLLEGE, OXFORD.

"The book is distinctly an achievement upon which we must heartily congratulate both the publisher and the author. It is a book 'no Smith ought to be without.'"—Genealogical Magazine.

SECOND EDITION, REVISED AND ENLARGED, WITH INDEX.

Crown 8vo, Cloth. Price 6s.

THE RIGHT TO BEAR ARMS.

By "X."

The Writer of the Series of Articles which appeared in the Saturday Review over that Signature.

"We cordially recommend this little book to those who are ignorant of such matters. The book is forcibly and clearly written, the arguments are unanswerable and supported by extracts from ancient documents, and many common delusions about arms are exposed."—Spectator.

SECOND EDITION, REVISED, ENLARGED, AND IMPROVED.

Demy 8vo, Cloth. Price 10s. 6d. net (post free, 10s. 11d.)

BRITISH FAMILY-NAMES:

Their Origin and Meaning. With Lists of Scandinavian, Frisian, Anglo-Saxon and Norman Names.

By REV. HENRY BARBER, M.D., F.S.A.

"The book is full of curious lore, and represents a vast deal of laborious work."—Daily News.

EIGHTH EDITION. Price 8s. 6d. net (post free, 8s. 10d.)

A NEW FAMILY HISTORY OF GREAT GENEALOGICAL AND HISTORICAL INTEREST.

Only One Hundred and Fifty Copies printed in all, of which only Seventy-five are for sale.

History & Records ^{of the} Smith-Carington Family

FROM THE CONQUEST TO THE PRESENT TIME.

By WALTER ARTHUR COPINGER, LL.D., F.S.A.,

Professor of Law in the Victoria University, and sometime President of the Bibliographical Society.

Finely Printed on Thick Paper, with 44 Illustrations of Mansions, Churches, Monuments, and Portraits, and the great PEDIGREE in a separate case.

Forming 2 vols., imperial 4to., strongly bound in solid half-white vellum, uncut, top edges gilt.

Price £5 5s. net.

THIS great Family History, which has taken long to prepare and been the subject of many inquiries, is one of the most remarkable genealogical investigations ever carried out. In the Editor's words, "There are not many Pedigrees which can be taken back like that of Smith-Carington in a direct male line to the Conquest. Each descent is fully verified, over seven hundred years of the descent in an unbroken line having, as stated in 'Burke's Landed Gentry,' 1898, p. 235, been registered at the College of Arms."

As so long and widely ramified a family history is of very considerable general historical importance, the limited number of copies for sale should soon be absorbed in reference libraries.

Complete Baronetage,

EXTANT, EXTINCT, or DORMANT,

From 1611—1800.

EDITED BY G. E. C., EDITOR OF THE "COMPLETE PEERAGE."

In five volumes price £7 7s. the set, or £1 11s. 6d. per volume.

These volumes give an account of all Baronetcies created through a period of about 190 years (viz., from the institution of that order in 1611 down to 1800); during 82 years of which period (1625-1707) they were of three Kingdoms, and during 100 years (1618-25 and 1707-1800) of two. They are since 1800 (after the Irish Union) of one Kingdom only.

THE PARENTAGE OF SIR WILLIAM WHELER, KNIGHT AND BARONET.

Twenty-three years ago readers of The Genealogist were introduced to a "comely Old Gentleman wth a round plump fface, a rudy cheerfull countenance addorned wth curled grey hair,"¹ Sir William Wheeler, of Westminster, Knight and Baronet, the first holder of a title in which he has had twelve successors. There are, however, other reasons that make Sir William an object of interest than the Baronetcy conferred on him in the early days of the Restoration. A prominent figure in the financial world, he was useful in turn to King and Commonwealth, to Protector and those that worked for the Restoration, and once more to King safely restored. His tomb at Derby bears witness² to his claim to have received the honour of knighthood from "the Royal Martyr," but in his life as he lived it was the Protector's sword at Hampton Court that first made him "Sir William." The State Papers of the Long Parliament, of which he was a member long after the Royalist secession, are evidence of his work as Parliamentary Paymaster, and Echard records the often repeated story of the mysterious summons he received to his sovereign's presence in the very shadow of the scaffold, while Pepys himself has noted his long conference with Montague on board the "Swiftsure," when the King was about to come into his own again.

The public life of Sir William is of interest to the historian, and I believe his private life (of which Sir George Wheeler and Pepys have given us glimpses) to be also of interest, but my present purpose is more modestly concerned only with genealogy. Six years after he had been created a Baronet, Sir William died at Derby without surviving issue and without a father; that is, not only without a living father, hardly to be expected at his age, but without even the record of one that had lived. His "cousin" and successor, Sir Charles Wheeler,³ entered the family pedigree in the Visitation of Warwickshire, taken in 1682, and put on record six generations of Wheelers, but gives no hint of the parentage of the first baronet. It has been suggested that such an omission was intentional, and due to the fact that Sir William had annulled a former will by which his successor would have greatly benefited, as had been agreed, when the "cousins," as it were hand in hand, approached the fountain of honour. I do not think this was the case. Sir Charles does not point out the particular place in the family tree that his predecessor should occupy simply because he did not know it. The account of the family he gives in 1682 is only a continuation of that given in 1638,⁴ fuller but otherwise identical with that of the Visitation of London, 1634; indeed, such information as the family possessed was imparted freely to Wotton and is embodied in his opening sentence on the Wheelers: "This family having long been of knightly degree was advanced to the dignity of a baronet in the person of Sir William Wheeler of Westminster, Knt."⁵ Le Neve, in his MS. "Baronetage," volunteers the further information that Sir William was a "fourth son born in Holland,"⁶ but at this interesting point his inspiration ceases, and the name of the father is withheld, and for more than a hundred years the first Baronet is the child of his works as self-made and fatherless as any hero of the late Samuel Smiles; indeed, Burke, in his annual volumes, did not furnish him with a father till late in the last century. To the best of my knowledge this kind office was first undertaken by Betham, who describes him as the eldest son of John Wheeler, of London, goldsmith, by Martha, his wife, daughter of Robert Kerrick⁷ (sic), and first cousin of Sir Charles Wheeler. This discovery did not find favour with Burke, and at length he announced a rival father in the person of Sir Edmund Wheeler, of Datchet, great-uncle of Sir Charles. The late Mr. Foster adopted this reading in his "Baronetage," but thought there was much to be said for the other; and Sir Edmund retained the favour of Burke till last year (1908) when he was withdrawn in favour of John. It is only necessary to briefly state here that William Wheeler, the fourth son and heir of Sir Edmund, married Jane, daughter of Sir Edward Wardour, and died in April 1649, leaving one son, William (who seems to have been of weak intellect), and seven daughters.

John Wheeler, the husband of Martha Herrick, has triumphed over Sir Edmund, and has moreover obtained the powerful support of "G.E.C." in the "Complete Baronetage,"⁸ where, however, some of the difficulties of the attribution are fully admitted. It is acknowledged that to these parents a son William could not have been born before 1610, and so the "comely old gentleman" was barely over fifty when young George Wheeler saw him, and his tomb at Derby overstates his age by ten years. John and Martha Wheeler were married 6th October 1606, and a year later the baptism of their son John is recorded in the Martin Husingtree Registers, and is followed by those of Mary, George, Martha, Susannah and Elizabeth (although only the three last baptisms as taking place in that parish), and the burial of the youngest child, Elizabeth, 16th April 1618; the names of the other five children are all found in the will of their father, John Wheeler, dated 1 April 1620.⁹ The final argument given in support of this theory is a very valuable piece of evidence, the extract quoted from the burial register of Allhallows, Staining, under the date, 22nd May 1663: "Anne Winne, widow of Tobyah Winne of London, Haberdasher, da. of John Wheeler, Esq., and sister to Sir William Wheeler, Knt. and Baronet."¹⁰ by which Sir William is at last on evidence that cannot be gainsaid, provided with a father and sister. But if that father was the husband of Martha we have to admit of another child, Anne, whose name is equally wanting in the Martin Register and John Wheler's will; and again, the allegation for Anne Wheler's marriage licence is as follows: "Tobias Wynne of St. Christopher-le-Stocks, London, haberdasher, bachelor, and Anne Wheeler, of St. Mildred's-in-the-Poultry, London, spinster, daughter of John Wheeler, gent., deceased, at St. Michael, Queenhithe, London,"¹¹ and is dated 25 September 1619; and so the father of Sir William was dead in September 1619, but the husband of Martha Herrick did not make his will till April 1620.

At this point I propose to leave the Baronetages and give as briefly as possible my own account of the family of Sir William. His grandfather was Henry Wheler, of St. Mary Magdalen, Milk Street, London, Citizen and Grocer, and buried in his parish church, 20th February 1564/5; by his wife, Agnes, who proved his will¹² 9th March following, he was the father of four children, all baptized at St. Mary Magdalen's, between the years 1558 and 1564, of whom the three younger, John, Henry and Nicholas, survived him. In the November following his death, Agnes Wheler re-married with Thomas Elliott, also of St. Mary Magdalen's, Citizen and Draper; there were two daughters of this second marriage, and their descendants are constantly named in the wills of the Wheler family. Their mother was again a widow in September 1589, and at her death was buried beside her two husbands in St. Mary Magdalen's, 28th October 1612. Two sons are mentioned in her will,¹³ the youngest, Nicholas, Citizen and Draper, who was her executor, and the eldest John, Citizen and Grocer, then residing at Middelburgh beyond the seas.

The third son, Henry Wheler, "of St. Lawrence Jewry, gentleman," had died without issue in his mother's lifetime, and was buried at St. Lawrence, 22nd July 1598, leaving a widow, Margaret, who proved his will¹⁴ 24th July 1598.

Nicholas Wheler was the last of the brothers to marry; he survived his wife, Sarah Burdenfield, the widow of John Hampton, Citizen and Haberdasher, by some fifteen months, and was buried in St. Mary Magdalen's, 4th December 1619. His will is of such importance to this account that I give a brief abstract of it:—

"Nicholas Wheeler, Citizen and Draper of London, to be buried in St. Mary Magdalen, Milk St., where lieth buried my father Mr Henry Wheeler, my father-in-law Mr Thomas Elliot, Draper, Agnes Elliot, my mother, wife and relict of them both, and now lately, 5 September 1618, was my loving wife, Sarah Wheeler there also interred—the five children of my brother John Wheeler by his first wife, William, Elizabeth, Anne, Mary and Cicely—to my son Henry my houses in Milk Street and in Aldgate and in St. Katharine Cree—my daughter Susan Wheeler—my uncle Matthew Garret—the three other children of my brother John Wheeler by his second wife and his widow now resident at Dort in Holland—kinsman Thomas Harrison—Mary, daughter of John Hampton and Sarah my deceased wife—Aunt Marckus and cousin Coulte—to the maiden children of Christ's Hospital to buy wigges and figges for fower yeares in Lent fower nobles—the four youngest children of my uncle Mr. John de Creets—cousin Ruddier—godson Mark Garret—the first wife of my brother John was Mrs. Anne Ingelar, daughter of Mr. Harve, of Richmond." Dated 28th January 1618/9. Pd. 14th December 1619 by James Rudyard, one of the executors. (P.C.C. 113, Parker.)

His daughter, Susan Wheler, died unmarried, 13th December 1624, and her brother Henry was found¹⁵ her heir. He was born 4th June 1616, matriculated from Queen's College, Oxford, in November 1631, and was admitted to the Middle Temple in 1633; he died abroad 17th February 1638/9, and at the Inquisition¹⁶ taken 23 March following, William Wheler, Esq., was found his kinsman and next heir, being the son of John Wheler, Esq., deceased, brother of Nicholas Wheler, Esq., deceased, father of the said Henry, and was then aged 30 years and more.

His cousin, "William Wheler, of Westminster, Esquire," was the residuary legatee and sole executor named in his will,¹⁷ dated 14th November 1636; he desired to be buried in Milk Street, by the side of his father and mother, left a legacy to Queen's College, Oxford, "where I was once a member," and mentions in addition, the four sisters of my cousin, William Wheeler—"my cousin Wheeler's brother-in-law's child at nurse in 1634 at the coblers"—cousin Wheeler's wife—Mr. Cole and Mrs. Cole—my kinsman "Mr. John Wheeler the marchant," and other relations but no other Wheelers.

Thus by the year 1640, the only living descendants of Henry Wheler who died in February 1564/5, were through his eldest son, John, who was baptized at St. Mary Magdalen's, 17th March 1559/60. John Wheeler, as has been seen in the will of his brother, was twice married, and left children by each marriage; he was a merchant and seems to have lived more in Holland than in London, where, however, he probably died on the day that he made his will,¹⁸ 14th November 1617, in which he described himself simply as "Citizen and Grocer," mentioned his wife, Sarah,¹⁹ and entrusted all his children, whom he did not name, to the care of his brother Nicholas. In the Act Book²⁰ he is described as of All Hallows, Staining, and was probably buried there. Left a widow with three young children, Sarah Wheeler took as her second husband, Lawrence Goffe, of St. Peter's, Cornhill, Citizen and Draper, and as his wife was buried in St. Peter's, 8th March 1642/3. A petition in Chancery,²¹ dated 1st May 1646, records a complaint of "John ¹⁹ The marriage, 2 February 1607/8, at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, of "John Wheeler and Sarah Rowllins" may possibly be John Wheler's second marriage, but I have no evidence of this.

Wheeler, Agnes Wheeler and Clara Wheeler, children of Sarah Goff, deceased, by her former husband, John Wheeler, and Sarah Goff, daughter of the said Sarah by Laurence Goff "as to the administration of their inheritance from their mother by the trustees, William Wheeler, Esq., and Francis, brother of Lawrence Goff. Of John Wheeler here named I know nothing further; he is not mentioned in the will²² of his step-father, dated 13th April 1652, in which his sisters are referred to as Mistress Moone and Mistress Vandervelde.

The first wife of John Wheeler, the father, was Anne, daughter of Henry Hervey, of Chessington, co. Surrey, sister of Sir William Hervey, created in succession a Baronet, Baron Hervey of Rosse in the peerage of Ireland, and Baron Hervey of Kidbrooke in that of England, whose only surviving daughter, Elizabeth, married her cousin, John Hervey of Ickworth. Anne Hervey's first husband we have already seen was named Ingelar, and her son, William Ingelar, is mentioned in the will²³ of his uncle, Lord Hervey, 16th December 1637. We are indebted again to Nicholas Wheeler for the names of her five children by her second husband, John Wheeler: William, Elizabeth, Ann, Mary and Cicely. The eldest daughter, Elizabeth, married Simon Aston, of St. Peter's, Westcheap, Citizen and Grocer, who entered his pedigree in the Visitation of London of 1634,²⁴ and dying in August 1638 left his wife, Elizabeth, executrix, and his brother, William Wheeler, Esq., overseer of his will.²⁵ Ann Wheeler, as has been seen, married in September 1619, Tobias Wynne, and was buried in All Hallows Staining, where it is probable her father had been buried. Mary Wheeler I identify with Mary Ainsworth (or Eensworth), who died a widow in 1681, naming in her will²⁶ her daughters, Mary and Anne, and a grand-daughter, Wise. Cicely Wheeler, the youngest of the four sisters, was living in November 1636, when her cousin Henry made his will, but I have not been able to trace her further.

In this same cousin's will, their only brother, William Wheeler, is already "of Westminster" and "Esquire," and is the first of his family to be so described, though his father seems through him to have reached this distinction after death, as has been seen in the Inquisition taken after this cousin's death. Like his half-brother, William Ingelar, he is mentioned in the will of his uncle, Lord Hervey, and is also possibly the William Wheeler that witnessed the will. The further identification of this William Wheeler, whose parentage I have sketched, with Sir William, of Westminster, first Baronet, is best shown by the latter's will, of which I give a somewhat detailed abstract:—

"I, Sir William Wheeler, of Channon rowe in the Citty of Westminster and County of Middlesex, Knight and Baronett," especially annulling a will made in February last past—my desire is if Dying in London To be buried in the parish Church of St. Mary Magdalens in

Of the litigation to which this will gave rise, Sir George Wheler has told us much; but the second Baronet was not alone in considering himself aggrieved by its terms. The Caveat Book of the Prerogative Court for the year 1666 contains four caveats against this will. Mary Eensworth, sister, was the first in the field on 17th August, and is followed three days later by John Winne, nephew "by sister," and it is evident that it was for no want of relations that Sir William adopted as his heir George Wheler.

Sir George Wheler has explained in his Autobiography that his father, Charles Wheler of Charing, never at any time claimed relationship with their benefactor; that the name was the same seems to have contented the testator and he does not even require his heirs to change their arms. Relationship with his successor in the title is stated in the Patent, but neither in the account of Sir William's family as here given or in a somewhat close examination of that of the second baronet have I been able to find any clue as to its nature.

BOWER MARSH.

NOTES ON KENRICK FAMILIES.

By W. F. CARTER.

6. THE KENRICKS OF MARCHWIAIL.

Marchwiel is a village about three miles south-east of Wrexham, in the direction of Whitchurch, and is part of the great lordship of Bromfield. It would appear from the pedigree given below that a certain Llewelin, who is described as an illegitimate son of Madoc Voel, was of Marchwiel about the time of Edward III; by which I suppose we are to understand that he was lord of the manor and owner of the demesne attached to the Hall. His wife is called a daughter of Madoc ap Lhuelin ap Griffith,¹¹¹ but whether he was lord of Marchwiel in her right or received it from his father I cannot say.

The authority for Llewelin's ancestors and descendants seems to be Harleian MS., No. 4181, which is a volume of Welsh pedigrees, "presented to my Lord Oxford by Mr. Hugh Thomas." This pedigree as given on the following pages appears chiefly on pages 308 and 309 of the MS., but Robert ap Howel and Elen his wife, and their children, are given on page 326. For the sake of convenience, I have divided the pedigree into two parts, of which the second consists largely of Mr. A. N. Palmer's additions. I am greatly indebted to the kindness of the Editor of The Genealogist for comparing my copy with the original. The pedigree is headed by these Arms:—A lion rampant in a bordure, and Crest:—On a cap turned up Ermine, a demi-lion rampant.

¹¹¹ This seems to mean that her father, Madoc, was son of Llewelyn ap Gruffyd ap Madog ap Gruffyd Maelor, which Llewelyn, known as of Chirkland, was dispossessed of his lands for joining in Prince Llewelyn's rebellion of 1280, but (on the death of his young nephews in 1282) became the rightful (Welsh) Lord of Bromfield, as heir of Gruffyd Maelor. But Mr. Palmer considers that by the time it gets back to Madoc Voel the "Marchwial" pedigree is "very mythical."

113 "The History of Powys Fadog," vol. ii, page 382, states that he had a son Jean, father of Lewis of Galehog, who was a witness to the charter of 1270.

¹¹⁹ He had no issue by her. He died 1623. See his Funeral Certificate "Misc. Gen. and Her." third Series, i, 176.

¹²⁰ The will of a Kenrick Edisbury was proved in 1638 (P.C.C., 122, Lee) as "of Chatham."

A little calculation will show that the eleven generations between Tudor Trevor, who flourished about A.D. 880 to 948, and David of 17 Richard II (1393-4) are too few, while the four generations between this David and John Kenrick, living in 1627, also seem insufficient. Comparison with other versions of the early part of the pedigree might reduce the discrepancies, but a more valuable work (which I do not propose to undertake) would be to see how far the pedigree can be supported by charters and by evidence in the Public Records.

It will be seen that there was another Cynrig or Kenrick of the same generation as Kenrick Roberts, who might be the ancestor of descendants using "Kenrick" as a surname, but Mr. Palmer knows of no such descendants, while after thoroughly examining the Marchwiel deeds he finds it evident that Kenrick Roberts' only son, John Kenrick, died without issue, and cannot therefore have been the father of Edward ap John Kenrick of Gwersyllt, the ancestor of the Wynn Hall family.¹²¹

I now give in order of date the few notes and abstracts of wills concerning the "Marchwiel" pedigree and Kenricks of Marchwiel, which I have been able to collect. Will-searching I found quite hopeless in dealing with this almost surnameless region and period.

In 1606 the families of Powell, Brereton and Roydon were concerned in a dispute about lands in Marchwiel.¹²²

In 1607 John Kenrick and Katherine his wife, and Jasper Mottershead and Elizabeth his wife were plaintiffs, and John Randall and David Randall and Amy his wife were defendants, in an action concerning lands in the lordship of Bromfield and Yale. The lands had lately belonged to Morgan Matthew and Doulee his wife. Morgan had conveyed lands to his wife, setting aside his children Katherine and Elizabeth, two of the plaintiffs. Doulee had married David Randall and thereupon changed her name to Amy. She was daughter of Piers Tilston.¹²³

In 1617 Robert Powell ap David ap Robert ap Howell was plaintiff in respect of lands in Marchwiel.¹²⁴ This proves the second, third, fourth and fifth generations in the direct line of Part II of the pedigree.

In 1620 Norden's Survey of the Lordship of Bromfield and Yale, which I have already mentioned, gave under Ruabon:—

¹²⁵ The Will of a Kenrick Edisbury of Chatham was proved in P.C.C. in 1638 (122 Lee). I also find that in Hilary Term, 1675, a Kenrick Edisbury was sued by one Jeffries for selling to him a horse which was "moon blind." The Depositions in this case were taken at Wrexham. (Exchequer Depositions.) Mr. Palmer kindly informs me that this later Kenrick Edisbury was son of Richard Edisbury, the youngest son of the above Kenrick Edisbury of Ruabon.

John Kenrick, of Marchwiell, gentleman, owner of one capital messuage, three tenements and forty acres.

Kenric Dunbabin, a freeholder in Marchwiell.

Also, under Iscoyd :—

John Kenricke pays for free lands.

In 1670 the Hearth Tax for Denbighshire¹²⁶ mentions under Marchwiell Martyn Kenricke and William Kenricke, and I understand Mr. Palmer to believe that the latter was son of Kenrick Dunbabin mentioned above, as living in 1620.

On 31st July 1684, Martin Kenrick, of Marchwiell, yeoman, being "aged & weake in body," made his will. He mentions his daughter, Margaret, wife of Samuel Thomas, and their daughter Alis. His daughter Elizabeth, 5 shillings. His daughter Sarah, 5 shillings. Residue to beloved wife Ermine, and she executrix.

Overseers—Cozens Roger Griffith of Abinbury, and John Kenrick of Marchwiell.

Proved at St. Asaph 25th May 1685. Inventory, £23 11s. 2d.

On 11th December 1702, John Kenrick, of Sontley, yeoman, made his will. "And first being heartyly sorry for my sins past," etc. To son Peter Kenricke, £10, and £10 to be divided among his children. To the poor of the parish of Marchwiell, £5 for ever, to be laid out for them, and my trusty and well-beloved friend Philip Roberts, of Sontley, Gent., his executors and administrators to be overseers of the said £5.

Residue to my daughter Margaret Digkinson, and she executrix.

The testator sets to the will his mark and seal.

Witnesses—Phillip Roberts, Samuel Kenrick, Robert Hughes.

Proved at St. Asaph by the executrix, 13th November 1704, the testator being described as of "Marchwhiall."

On 4th October 1727 John Kendrick, of Marchwiell in co. Denbigh, made his will. He desires "my debts and funeral expenses to be paid by my principall executor." Sonne Joseph one shilling. Daughter Hanna one shilling. Brother Cornelious Leech, ten shillings. The residue to Sarah Kendrick my wife, and she sole executrix. And Cornelious Leech my brother-in-law, and John Williams of Pentrey Velin Bilstone, to be executors with my wife that they may be in power to see that this my last will be fulfilled.

Witnesses—John Williams, Jonathan Williams and Edward Williams.

Proved at Chester by the executrix, 4th December 1728, and power reserved for the other two. The following Inventory is attached :—

¹²⁶ Quoted by "H.G.W." in "Bye-gones," vol. vii. It is, I believe, that numbered $\frac{264}{36}$ in P.R.O.

"A true and full Invitary of the goods & chattels of John Kendrick of the township of Cly in the parish of Bangor in the county of Flint, deceased," includes "Coles at the hous, 6s.; saddle & bridle and waring aprril, 9s. 6d.; the hay, £1 5s.; one cow & caulf taken away by his son-in-law, £2 10s.; total, £16 19s. 6d. Don by us—William Evans, Job + Probbert."

I have also sundry notes of Kenricks who were of Ruabon before the Wynn Hall family, and these were possibly descendants of the "Marchwiell" family. As to this, however, I have no evidence except the contiguity of Ruabon and Marchwiell. Still, it would seem likely that the following extract¹²⁷ from Llansilin Registers relates to a Kenrick of gentle descent, seeing that the Kyfflins were a family of some importance. :—

"Edward Kynerick, of the parish of Rhywabon, and Susanna Kyffin of the parish of Llansilin, married" in 1676 (no day or month stated).

7. THE KENWRICKS OF OFFENHAM, WORCESTERSHIRE, AND ATHERSTONE-ON-STOUR, WARWICKSHIRE.

In Grazebrook's "Heraldry of Worcestershire" this family is said to be of Stock and Bradley, a small parish in that county, lying near to Feckenham, and also of King's Sutton, Northamptonshire. I am quite satisfied that it was a branch of the King's Sutton Kenwricks, and it was established by :—

EDWARD KENWRICK, who (described as "Edward Kenwricke, Gent., of King's Sutton, Northants, aged about 30, bachelor") had licence at Worcester, dated 28th April 1693, to marry Ann Emms, of Offenham,¹²⁸ aged about 24, spinster. He evidently lived at Offenham, and was doubtless the Edward "Kenwick," a freeholder in Offenham, who appears in the 1703-4 List of Worcestershire Landowners, which forms the Twelfth Appendix to Grazebrook's "Heraldry of Worcestershire." There is (or was) a mural monument to his memory in Offenham Church, displaying the Kenrick arms—Ermine, a lion rampant Sable, and stating that he was born at King's Sutton, Northants, and died 13th September 1727, aged 63. This goes near to identifying him with Edward, fifth son of Robert Kenwick, of King's Sutton, which Edward, according to Baker's "Northamptonshire," was baptized at Sutton, 17th September 1663, and was "living in 1681." "Edward Kenrick Gent. and Anne Emes" were married at Offenham, 11 May 1693, and the monument states that she died 22nd September 1747, aged 79. Not having made any search in the Offenham Registers, ¹²⁷ Kindly supplied by E. Hughes, Esq., of Glyndwr, Wrexham.

¹²⁸ Memoranda of the late H. S. Grazebrook, doubtless taken from Mr. Wadley's "Worcester Marriage Licenses."—The Genealogist, O.S.

or at the Worcester Probate Registry, I am unable to say more about their issue¹²⁹ than that Edward and Anne Kenwick had a son :—

EDWARD KENRICK, who, as “son of Edward Kenwick,¹³⁰ of Uffingham, co. Worcester, pleb.,¹³¹ matriculated at Balliol College, Oxford, in 1710-11.¹³² He took his B.A. degree from St. Alban’s Hall in 1714, and his M.A. from Magdalen Hall in 1717. Foster states that he was Rector of Atherstone on Stour (Warwickshire) in 1719, and Vicar of Stratford-on-Avon from 1736 to 1762, from which it appears that he was a pluralist, for a monument in Atherstone Church states that he was Rector there for “upwards of forty-two years.”¹³³ On 26th December 1721, “The Reverend Edward Kenrick Rector of Atherston, and Mrs. Mary Field” were married at Offenham.¹³⁴ The following particulars of their descendants are taken almost entirely from what I may call the “Cox Pamphlet,” to which the “Germ or Pedigree” of the King’s Sutton Kenricks, already mentioned, was prefixed. (See Vol. xxiv, pp. 100, 101.) This pamphlet gives a pedigree of the Cox family, and also a copy of the lengthy inscription concerning the Kenrick family which is (or was) in the chancel of Atherstone Church, and in the pamphlet the name is throughout spelled “Kendrick.” The inscription states that Mary, wife of the Reverend Edward “Kendrick,” died 20th February 1742, aged 47, and that she was “daughter of Oliver Field, of the City of Bristol, gent., by his wife, Ann, daughter of Christopher Newington,¹³⁵ of Offenham, in the County of Worcester, gent.” The Reverend Edward Kenrick and Mary his wife had the following issue :—

1. Edward Kenrick, died 3rd September 1724, aged 4 months.
2. Robert Kenrick, died 9th December 1727, aged 2 years 6 months.
3. Edward Townsend Kenrick, who as “son of Edward Kenrick, of Stratford-on-Avon, co. Warwick, ¹²⁹ In Kelly’s Directory for 1884 Robert Kendrick appears as a farmer at Bradley-and-Stock.

¹³⁰ Both forms of the name being given by Foster, I presume that one or the other was used indifferently.

¹³¹ The description of his father as “plebeian” made me doubtful as to his descent from the King’s Sutton Kenricks, which, however, seems hardly disputable considering the evidences I have given. I fancy that gentle birth was sometimes ignored in order to secure scholarships intended for the poorer classes.

¹³² Foster’s “Alumni Oxonienses.”

¹³³ Atherstone and Stratford are only three miles apart, and it is a polite fiction to describe Atherstone Rectory in these days as a “living.”

¹³⁴ Memoranda of the late H. S. Grazebrook.

¹³⁵ The “Heraldry of Worcestershire” gives no account of any Newington family, but the 1703-4 List of Worcestershire Freeholders mentions a William Newington at Offenham. There are Newington pedigrees in Berry’s “Sussex Pedigrees” and “Kent Pedigrees,” but I have not examined them.

Clerk," matriculated at Magdalen Hall, Oxford, in 1758, aged 16. He was doubtless named "Townsend" in memory of his ancestor, George Townsend, the prothonotary already mentioned,¹³⁶ whose family seems to have endowed some college, for the Cox Pamphlet states that the Kenricks claimed scholarships as kin to the Townsend family. Edward Townsend Kenrick was a D.D. and for 33 years Rector of Atherstone, and is said to have kept a pack of Harriers.¹³⁷ He died—evidently unmarried, though it is not so stated—16th August 1799, aged 58.

1. Ann Kenrick, died 16th June 1792, aged 69.
2. Mary Kenrick, died 5th September 1727, aged 4 months.
3. Mary Kenrick, died 16th July 1767, aged 39.
4. Elizabeth Kenrick, married the Reverend Thomas Cox, who was born in 1724, and in 1754 was Chaplain of Deritend and Bordesley in the parish of Aston-juxta-Birmingham. They had a large family, including the Rev. Thomas Cox, Rector of Baginton, Warwickshire, whose son, the Rev. Thomas Cox, D.D., died 10th January 1868, aged 79 years, having been fifty-two years Rector of Atherstone-on-Stour. Another son of "Chaplain" Thomas Cox and Elizabeth was Edward Townsend Cox, a notable surgeon of Birmingham, born 1769 and died 1863, whose son, William Sands Cox, F.R.S., was also a well-known townsman of Birmingham. Another descendant of the marriage was, I presume, the Rev. Cecil Walker Cox, Rector of Atherstone in 1884. Elizabeth (Kenrick) Cox, was the last surviving child of her parents, and dying 14th November 1810, was buried at Aston-juxta-Birmingham.
5. Ursula Kenrick, died 26th February 1783, aged 49.
6. Catharine Kenrick, married Butler Simmons, gent., and dying 11th March 1806, aged 70, was buried at St. Paul's Church, Bristol.
7. Margaret Kenrick, died 20th February 1809, aged 71.

THE OUTFIT OF A NAVAL CADET IN THE REIGN OF GEORGE II.

CONTRIBUTED BY KEITH W. MURRAY, F.S.A.

Among some miscellaneous papers relating to a branch of the great family of Ogilvy,¹ was found the following detailed account of expenses incurred for the outfit necessary to start a "Volunteer," or "King's Letter boy," in his career on entering the Royal Navy nearly two hundred years ago. Alexander Ogilvy, for whose benefit the various items enumerated were purchased, many of which in these days appear curious in the extreme, was second surviving son of George, fourth Lord Banff. Born in 1718,² he entered the Navy in his fifteenth year, the warrant appointing him to the "Dreadnought"³ being dated the 16th February 1732-3.⁴ A little more than five years later he succeeded his elder brother in the title and estates, and thereby became sixth Lord Banff, but remained in the Navy until his death in 1746. It may be worth noting that we glean from this account that the "Dreadnought" was at Portsmouth under the command of a Captain Geddes in 1733.

Notices of Books.

THE PLANTAGENET ROLL OF THE BLOOD ROYAL, BEING A COMPLETE TABLE OF ALL THE DESCENDANTS NOW LIVING OF EDWARD III., KING OF ENGLAND. By the Marquis of Ruvigny and Raineval. The Isabel of Essex Volume. London and Edinburgh (T. C. and E. C. Jack).

Another instalment of the Plantagenet Roll makes its appearance, resplendent in the now familiar blue and gold covers, but lacking the beautiful photogravures, and other illustrations which added so greatly to the attraction of its predecessors. The Roll has now reached the issue of Isabel, wife of Henry Bourchier, first Earl of Essex, and paternal aunt of Edward IV. This volume not only contains the descendants, or rather the descendants that have been found, of this Princess, but also Supplements to the three previous volumes, and these we trust may be continued in the future, for the only hope of obtaining anything like a complete Roll of the Blood Royal lies in the probability that as time goes on, families as yet unaware that a strain of royal blood flows in their veins may discover, and desire to record, the fact. Many of the descents have been worked out very fully and with much care, especially where the compiler has been fortunate enough to obtain the co-operation of living descendants and of well known genealogists; in other cases names seem to have been copied out of printed books, with but little or no attempt to trace the lines further. It is most interesting to find that Charles Darwin, the eminent naturalist, sprang from Isabel of Essex, while the descent of his wife appears in the Clarence Supplement. Other interesting lines are those of a race of Shropshire colliers coming from the Leightons of Ford; the posterity of Donagh MacCarty the forfeited Earl of Clancarty; and the numerous descendants of William Money of Pitsford, some of whom now bear the double surname of Money-Coutts. In the Clarence Supplement the line of Sir Geoffrey Pole has been worked out further and in the Supplement to the Exeter volume we are glad to observe that, in response perhaps to some hints contained in our last notice, many pages of royally descended persons have been added to the Roll, including the issue of Barbara Ann Spooner by her marriage with William Wilberforce, the philanthropist. This Supplement also records a hitherto unknown branch of the noble family of Fane.

On p. 156 Richard Heber of Marton, who died in July 1766, is said to have died s.p.; he had, however, three daughters and coheirs, one of whom left descendants. On p. 188 we do not see the name of Sir Algernon West, author of a charming volume of "Recollections," and on p. 487 no descendants are supplied of William and Louisa Garforth, though some of them have been recorded in the Exeter volume, and several others, including Admiral Edmund St. John Garforth, C.B., are in existence. Another omission occurs on p. 534, where no attempt has been made to work out the posterity of Bridget, wife of Francis Savage, for which reference should be made to the pedigree of Savage of Ballymadun in the 1850 edition of the Landed Gentry. In a book containing so many particulars of family history, too much stress must not be laid upon misprints and errors in dates, but there are two obvious slips in the wording of the Preface which ought to have been corrected, and in some other respects the work requires careful revision; for instance, the first wife of Lord Mexborough, who died in 1900, is entered as living, while on p. 599 of the Exeter Supplement a lady still alive and in good health, has been prematurely despatched, though the date of her supposed decease has been left blank.

VISITATION OF ENGLAND AND WALES. Edited by Frederick Arthur Crisp. Volume xv. (Privately printed.)

The period covered by the earlier generations comprised in Mr. Crisp's Visitation is often a most difficult one to English genealogists, and both the family historian and the family lawyer of the future will be grateful for the good work which, with so much accuracy of detail, is now being accomplished. There is a continuous thread of connection running through the Visitation, which adds greatly to its value and interest; the majority of the pedigrees dovetail with each other, and the cross references are many. The genealogies contained in this volume include those of the Earl of Warwick, Viscount Goschen, Lord De Ramsay, the late Lord Amherst of Hackney, and three baronets, Sir Dudley Baines Forwood, Sir Frederick Dixon-Hartland, and Sir Charles Hubert Hastings Parry. The family of Fanshawe has a most distinguished naval and military record, and among other pedigrees of especial interest are those of Deacon of Birchin Lane and Mapledon, Arkwright of Sutton Scarsdale, and Murray of Titchfield, the last named family being derived from Lord William Murray, third son of the third Duke of Atholl. The illustrations are not very numerous, and, except for some curious silhouettes, are entirely armorial. An odd mistake occurs on page 117, where Portland Place, West Kensington, has been given as the birthplace of one of Lord Derby's brothers, instead of the better known street of the same name in the parish of St. Marylebone. A most satisfactory and comprehensive index completes a very interesting and excellently edited volume.

THE NORFOLK ANTIQUARIAN MISCELLANY (Second Series). Part iii. Edited by Walter Rye. Norwich (Gibbs and Waller).

Part iii of the Norfolk Antiquarian Miscellany makes up in quality for what it lacks in quantity, and contains, moreover, the Index to the three parts which have been published. Mr. H. F. Killick discusses the origin and history of Thetford Hill; and Mr. Richard Howlett, F.S.A., has edited the Early Bede Roll of the Merchants' Gild at Lynn, and has been at great pains to identify and date many of the brethren of the Gild. Among these occurs the name of John Chaucer, believed to have been great grandfather of the poet. Prince Frederick Duleep Singh contributes a transcript of an old Latin pedigree of the Knyvetts from the Le Neve MSS., drawn up in 1651, and containing some critical remarks written by Le Neve in and about 1697. The early generations are more or less fabulous, but the later descents appear more likely to be correct than in the version contained in the works of Sir Bernard Burke and his many copyists. We shall look forward with much interest to the notes foreshadowed to appear in a future number of the Miscellany. Mr. Rye, who has been much occupied with the preparation of his forthcoming Visitation of Norfolk, has only one paper in this Part, an article on the origin of Hubert de Burgh the Justiciary, in which as usual, he propounds a theory which is entirely novel, for after showing that Burgh by Aylsham, not Burgh St. Margaret, was the original home of the de Burghs, he contends that Hubert was paternally of the great house of Bigod. A tabular pedigree illustrates the suggested descent.

SOME ROYAL DESCENTS OF THE FAMILIES OF FLEETWOOD, BERRY, AND HOMAN-MULOCK. Edited by the late Sir Edmund T. Bewley, LL.D., F.S.A. (Printed for Private Circulation.) Dublin (printed at the University Press by Ponsonby and Gibbs).

This little book possesses a special interest as the last work of Sir Edmund Bewley, whose lamented death has left a gap among Irish genealogists which it will be difficult to fill. Starting as his base with the pedigree of the Fleetwoods of Kilbeggan recently contributed by him to the Genealogist, Sir Edmund, with his accustomed thoroughness of method, has traced the descent of that family through the Springs of Lavenham, Waldegraves of Smallbridge, Wentworths of Nettlestead, Le Despencers and De Clares from Joan, daughter of Edward I. Other tables carry the pedigree still further to Alfred the Great and Charlemagne, in a manner which will be familiar to genealogists.

Notes and Queries.

PEDIGREE OF DR. EDMOND HALLEY.—I am much obliged for the information given about Edmond Halley, sen., in Mr. Ernest Axon's note, printed in The Genealogist for October last (vol. xxv, pp. 143-144). Some additional facts can be found in a broadside, relating to the same subject, preserved in the Guildhall Library. A few remarks about the broadside (mentioned also in Notes and Queries, 10th Series, vol. v, p. 265) are included in a series of "Extracts from British Archives," published in the Magazine of History (New York, 1906-1907). I understand that twelve good men and true decided that Edmond Halley, sen., had been murdered. Are we able now to dispute the correctness of their verdict? It is just possible that troublesome times with some acute financial worries at the end, may have slightly disturbed the peace of mind of Edmund Halley, sen., shortly before his decease in 1684, but I am not at all prepared to believe that such a condition, if it existed, could have had any prenatal effect upon his son, the famous astronomer, born in 1656. There are two, perhaps relevant, but wholly unconfirmed, statements about Edmond Halley, sen., to be seen in Hearne's "Remarks," vol. iii, pp. 472-473, and vol. vi, p. 231. A list of Halley and Hawley wills (1532-1729) indexed in the Probate Registry at Lichfield was published in the Magazine of History (New York) for November last (vol. viii, p. 293).

BARONETCY OF LIVESSEY.—A certain mystery surrounds the fate of Sir Michael Livesey, who, as of Eastchurch within the Isle of Sheppey, co. Kent, was created a baronet 11 July 1627, with remainder to the heirs male of his body (Patent Roll, 3 Charles I, Part xxxvi, No. 5). As a regicide Sir Michael after the Restoration fell upon evil days, and fled to the Continent. From the State Papers it appears that on 4 Sept. 1663 he was at Arnheim, and soon after landed at Plymouth, and on 16 April 1672 a certain Silas Taylor speaks of a packet boat in which came over "one Livesey, a commander under Oliver." On 27 Feb. 1665-6 admon. of the goods of his wife Dame Elizabeth Livesey of Maidstone, co. Kent, described as a widow, was granted to Deborah Livesey, her daughter, but whether the testatrix, an abstract of whose will is given below, was identical with this Deborah, I have as yet no certain proof. There was another daughter, Anne, wife of Sir Robert Sprignell, Bart.

4 August 1713. I Deborah Livesey of St. James's, Westminster, Spinster. To my Neice Elizabeth Sheldon—Money in Mr. Courtney's hands—To my Neice Mary Dodson her father's picture set in gold, &c.—my own picture in the little dressing Room—To my Brother Edward Wright money in Mr. Haswell's hands—To my Servant maid Jane Lund my picture over the Chimney in my Bedchamber. To Mr. Michell the Box of Chocolate I made last. To my Friend Mrs. Mary Groome—I make John Sallvetty, Esquire and Mrs. Mary Groome executors. Signed, "Deb. Livesey."

Witnesses—Edward Beach, Elizabeth Doody.

16 September 1713, appeared Robert Laws of St. James's, Westminster, Apothecary and Jane Lund, wife of Thomas Lund of same parish Gent., and deposed that they had heard the deceased say, and particularly in her last sickness, that £30, part of the debt due from George Courtney, Esqre., to her upon Bond, was the proper moneys of John Salvetti, Esqre., one of the executors named in her last Will.

Proved P.C.C. 16 Sept. 1713 by John Salvetti Esqre., and Mary Groome (211 Leeds).

According to the newspapers, a claim was some years ago made to this baronetcy by the late Mr. Joseph Montague Livesey, of Stourton Hall, Lincolnshire, but descent does not seem to have been alleged from the first baronet, and the title does not appear to have been assumed by Mr. Livesey's son and successor in the family estates.

ELLIOT STOCK'S NEW BOOKS.

Crown 8vo., Cloth. Price 3s. 6d.

THE LAW CONCERNING NAMES AND CHANGES OF NAME.

By A. C. FOX DAVIES (of Lincoln's Inn), Barrister-at-Law, and P. W. P. CARLYON-BRITTON, F.S.A.

This volume should form a useful handbook to those members of the legal profession who are brought into contact with the subject from a professional standpoint. In addition, it will be profitably read by those of the general public who are their own lawyers. To the wider public the book should also appeal, as a considerable portion of its text is devoted to the more popular subject of names in general and their sources of origin and methods of development.

CHEAP EDITION.—Demy 8vo, Cloth. Price 5s. net. (post free, 5s. 5d.)

THE SMITH FAMILY:

*Being a Popular History of most Branches of the Name, however Spelt,
from the Fourteenth Century downwards.*

With many Pedigrees, now printed for the first time, and some account of the numerous celebrities who have borne the name under its various renderings.

By COMPTON READE, M.A., MAGDALEN COLLEGE, OXFORD.

"The book is distinctly an achievement upon which we must heartily congratulate both the publisher and the author. It is a book 'no Smith ought to be without.'"—Genealogical Magazine.

SECOND EDITION, REVISED AND ENLARGED, WITH INDEX.

Crown 8vo, Cloth. Price 6s.

THE RIGHT TO BEAR ARMS.

By "X."

The Writer of the Series of Articles which appeared in the Saturday Review over that Signature.

"We cordially recommend this little book to those who are ignorant of such matters. The book is forcibly and clearly written, the arguments are unanswerable and supported by extracts from ancient documents, and many common delusions about arms are exposed."—Spectator.

SECOND EDITION, REVISED, ENLARGED, AND IMPROVED.

Demy 8vo, Cloth. Price 10s. 6d. net (post free, 10s. 11d.)

BRITISH FAMILY-NAMES:

Their Origin and Meaning. With Lists of Scandinavian, Frisian, Anglo-Saxon and Norman Names.

By REV. HENRY BARBER, M.D., F.S.A.

"The book is full of curious lore, and represents a vast deal of laborious work."—Daily News.

EIGHTH EDITION. Price 8s. 6d. net (post free, 8s. 10d.)
